Adobe Commerce Developer Expert Sample Questions (Q17-Q22):

NEW QUESTION # 17

A new critical security vulnerability is found on Adobe Commerce Cloud. The successful exploitation may lead to arbitrary code execution, so the Developer must apply a security patch file given by Adobe as soon as possible to ensure system security. How should the Developer apply the security patch on Adobe Commerce hosted on cloud infrastructure according to best practices?

- A. Upgrade Adobe Commerce to the latest security patch release.
- B. Apply a security patch using composer.json.
- C. Copy a security patch to m2-hotfixes directory.

Answer: C

Explanation:

On Adobe Commerce Cloud, the best practice for urgent fixes is to place the patch file into the m2-hotfixes directory at the root of the project. Patches in this directory are automatically applied during the Cloud build and deploy process.

Option A (composer.json) applies to composer-based patches in on-premise installations, not the recommended cloud approach.

Option C (upgrade to latest release) is ideal for long-term but not feasible for urgent fixes that must be applied immediately.

NEW QUESTION # 18

An Adobe Commerce Developer is tasked with adding additional data to an order entity in REST API.

Remembering upgradability, which solution should the developer implement?

- A. Use API events.
- B. Use extension attributes.
- C. Use interceptor plugins.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The correct way to expose additional data for service contracts (such as REST or GraphQL APIs) is via Extension Attributes.

A (plugins): Not intended for exposing new data in APIs.

C (events): Cannot modify service contract data structures.

B is correct: Extension Attributes allow adding new fields to API entities while maintaining backward compatibility and upgradability.

NEW QUESTION # 19

An Adobe Commerce Developer is tasked to frequently send data to a third-party API. The API utilizes a JSON Web Token (JWT) that expires every hour. The developer decides to store the JWT in a custom cache.

Which step should the Developer take to implement this new custom cache type correctly?

- A. Define the custom cache type directly in system.xml at the website level.
- B. Define the custom cache type in cache.xml with a unique name and instance.
- C. Define the custom cache type in the di.xml, ensuring the cache model implements CacheInterface.

Answer: B

Explanation:

To create a custom cache type in Adobe Commerce:

Define the cache type in etc/cache.xml with a unique ID and class instance.

This ensures Magento recognizes the cache type and allows managing it with cache commands.

Option A is incorrect; DI configuration is not where cache types are defined.

Option C is wrong; system.xml defines admin configurations, not cache types.

NEW QUESTION # 20

A client receives an alert stating that storage on their production environment is nearly full. They are using Pro architecture and are concerned about storage capacity. A Developer is asked to increase the disk size.

How should this problem be solved?

- A. Modify the magento.app.yaml file.
- B. Open a ticket with Adobe support.
- C. Extend their Adobe license.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 21

A Developer is tasked with creating a new index. The custom indexer is not automatically updating the product data. How should the Developer solve this issue?

- A. Implement custom database triggers.
- B. Use the mview to allow tracking database changes.
- C. Use an event observer to monitor data changes.

Answer: B
