What is the amount of losses retailers lose to Organized Retail Crime (ORC) each year according to the National Retail Federation?

- A. $1M-$500 Million
- B. $2-$5 Billion

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to the National Retail Federation (NRF), retailers lose between $2 billion and $5 billion annually due to Organized Retail Crime (ORC). ORC involves:

Coordinated theft rings that steal large quantities of merchandise.

Reselling stolen goods via online marketplaces, flea markets, and social media.

Use of counterfeit receipts and return fraud schemes.

Retailers report that ORC groups are becoming more sophisticated, using tactics like gift card fraud, online scams, and employee collusion. These crimes significantly impact the economy, leading to:

Higher costs for businesses.

Increased product prices for consumers.

Security and law enforcement expenses to combat ORC.

NEW QUESTION # 35

How is a privacy policy used in social networks?

- A. All of the above
- B. To protect members' information
- C. To set guidelines on how information will be shared

Answer: A

Explanation:

Social media platforms are legally required to publish privacy policies that explain:

How they protect user information from breaches and unauthorized access.

The guidelines for data sharing with third parties, advertisers, and governments.

What security measures are in place (e.g., encryption, multi-factor authentication).

Despite privacy policies, many platforms have been criticized for violating privacy rights through:

Unlawful data collection and sale (e.g., Facebook-Cambridge Analytica scandal).

Failing to notify users about security breaches.

Tracking user activity even after logging out.

Thus, while privacy policies exist to protect users, they often favor corporate interests over privacy rights.
