NEW QUESTION # 20

A contract can be cancelled when the State is what?

- A. Active
- B. Inactive
- C. Expired
- D. Rejected

Answer: A

Explanation:
According to the ServiceNow Hardware Asset Management documentation, a contract is a record of the terms and conditions that govern the relationship between a vendor and an organization. A contract can have different states that indicate its status and lifecycle. The states are:
* Draft: The contract is being created or modified and has not been submitted for approval.
* Requested: The contract has been submitted for approval but has not been approved yet.
* Active: The contract has been approved and is in effect. You can cancel the contract in this state, if you want to terminate it before its end date due to various reasons, such as breach of contract, mutual agreement, or vendor performance1.
* Expired: The contract has reached its end date and is no longer valid. You cannot cancel the contract in this state, but you can renew it or extend it.
* Renewed: The contract has been renewed for another term with the same or modified terms and conditions. You cannot cancel the contract in this state, but you can renew it or extend it again.
* Extended: The contract has been extended beyond its original end date with the same terms and conditions. You cannot cancel the contract in this state, but you can renew it or cancel it.
* Canceled: The contract has been terminated before its end date. You cannot cancel the contract in this state, but you can reactivate it or delete it.
* Rejected: The contract has been rejected by the approver. You cannot cancel the contract in this state, but you can edit it or delete it.

NEW QUESTION # 21
What must exist before a consumable can be consumed? (Choose three.)

- A. A stock order record
- B. A consumable record
- C. A model category record
- D. A transfer order record
- E. A model record

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:
A consumable is a type of asset that is used up or depleted over time, such as printer cartridges, paper, or batteries1.
Before a consumable can be consumed, it must have a model record, a model category record, and a consumable record in ServiceNow12.
A model record defines the attributes of a consumable, such as its name, manufacturer, cost, and quantity12.
A model category record specifies the type of consumable, such as office supplies, hardware, or software12.
A consumable record tracks the current stock level, location, and status of a consumable12.
A stock order record is used to request new consumables from a vendor or supplier, but it is not required before a consumable can be consumed13.
A transfer order record is used to move consumables from one location to another, but it is not required before a consumable can be consumed14. References: 1: Consumables - Product Documentation:
