Test Prep EMT Exam Introduction

The National Register Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) cognitive test is a computer adaptive test (CAT). This means that each candidate is evaluated based on the position of the responses on a spectrum. Once a candidate gets the correct answers, the computer will automatically enter more difficult questions to continue testing the candidate's skill level. The number of items a candidate can expect from the EMT exam will be between 70 and 120. Each exam will have between 60 and 110 "live" elements that will be counted towards the final score. The exam will also include 10 pilot questions that do not affect the final score. The maximum time allowed to complete the exam is 2 hours. To pass the exam, candidates must meet a standard skill level. The standard of success is defined by the ability to provide safe and effective entry-level emergency medical care.

Following are the requirements of Test Prep EMT Exam

- Successful completion of a state-approved State Medical Technician (EMT) course that meets or exceeds the National Emergency Medical Service training standards for the emergency technician.

NREMT Emergency Medical Technicians Exam Sample Questions (Q40-Q45):

NEW QUESTION # 40

Which of the following elements proves tort negligence in a court of law?

- A. Abandonment
- B. Causation
- C. Assault and battery
- D. False imprisonment

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The legal concept of negligence in EMS requires the plaintiff to establish four elements:

- * Duty to act

- * Breach of that duty

- * Damages (harm caused)

- * Causation- a direct link between the EMT's action/inaction and the harm caused Causation (often termed "proximate cause") is the essential element that connects the EMT's breach to the patient's injury or outcome. Abandonment, assault, and false imprisonment are other intentional torts, but not core elements of proving negligence.

NEW QUESTION # 41

A 30-year-old patient has a stab wound to the left forearm that is bleeding profusely. Which of the following interventions should the EMT perform first?

- A. Apply direct pressure
- B. Determine severity of wound
- C. Assess the airway
- D. Place a tourniquet

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The first step in hemorrhage control for external bleeding is always direct pressure using gloved hands or dressing. Only if this fails or the bleeding is severe and life-threatening (especially from extremities) should a tourniquet be applied.

Assessing the airway is critical in overall trauma care but not the first priority in isolated extremity hemorrhage. Severity assessment is secondary to bleeding control.

NEW QUESTION # 42

An infectious disease spread by the fecal-oral route that is considered an acute infection with a currently available vaccine is

- A. Hepatitis E
- B. Hepatitis B
- C. Hepatitis C
- D. Hepatitis A

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Hepatitis A is transmitted primarily via the fecal-oral route, often through contaminated food or water. It leads to an acute liver infection, not a chronic condition. Unlike Hepatitis C, which has no vaccine, Hepatitis A has an effective vaccine and is preventable with proper hygiene and immunization.

Hepatitis B is spread through blood and sexual contact, not fecal-oral. Hepatitis E is also fecal-oral but is rare in the U.S. and doesn't have a widely used vaccine.

NEW QUESTION # 43

A 27-year-old patient reports trouble breathing after being struck by a car. Which of the following findings are indicative of a possible chest wall injury? Select the three answer options that are correct.

- A. Occipital depression
- B. Jugular vein distention
- C. Clavicle deformity
- D. Unequal rise and fall
- E. Epigastric distension
- F. Subcutaneous emphysema

Answer: C,D,F

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

Clavicle deformity suggests potential rib or thoracic trauma. Unequal chest rise may indicate a flail segment, pneumothorax, or hemothorax. Subcutaneous emphysema, the presence of air under the skin, is a classic finding in pneumothorax or tracheobronchial injury.

Occipital depression is not chest related; epigastric distension is a GI symptom; and jugular vein distention would suggest tension pneumothorax or cardiac tamponade, which are more advanced complications.

NEW QUESTION # 44

A 67-year-old patient is sitting in the tripod position. What general impression should the EMT most strongly suspect from this patient's position?

- A. The patient has trouble breathing
- B. The patient is in cardiac arrest
- C. The patient is having a seizure
- D. The patient has abdominal pain

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation From Exact Extract:

The tripod position- sitting upright, leaning forward, supporting the upper body with arms on knees - is a classic sign of respiratory distress. This position:

* Maximizes diaphragmatic movement

* Engages accessory muscles of respiration

* Improves air exchange in patients with obstructive airway diseases (e.g., COPD, asthma) It is rarely used by patients with abdominal pain or seizures and is not associated with cardiac arrest (where unconsciousness is expected).
