Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central Developer Sample Questions (Q75-Q80):

NEW QUESTION # 75

You are creating an entitlement object in Business Central to enable transactability for AppSource apps.

You must map the entitlement object to a plan in Partner Center.

You need to select the value of the Type property to use in the entitlement object.

Which value should you use?

- A. PerUserServicePlan
- B. Unlicensed
- C. Implicit
- D. Role

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Business Central, when creating an entitlement object to enable transactability for AppSource apps and mapping it to a plan in Partner Center, the Type property of the entitlement object should be set to PerUserServicePlan (A). The PerUserServicePlan type is used to define an entitlement that is based on a service plan, which is typically how transactability features are managed for apps distributed through AppSource. This type of entitlement allows for the mapping of specific features or capabilities of the app to a service plan in Partner Center, enabling granular control over what users are entitled to use based on their subscription. The other values, such as Implicit (B), Unlicensed (C), and Role (D), are used in different contexts and do not apply to the scenario of mapping an entitlement object to a plan for AppSource apps.

NEW QUESTION # 77

You are developing an app.

You plan to publish the app to Microsoft AppSource.

You need to assign an object range for the app.

Which object range should you use?

- A. custom object within the range 50000 to 59999
- B. custom object within the range 50000 to 99999
- C. an object range within the range of 70000000 to 74999999 that is requested from Microsoft
- D. free object within the standard range 1 to 49999
- E. divided by countries and use specific a country within the range 100000 to 999999

Answer: C

Explanation:

When developing an app for Microsoft AppSource, it is essential to use an object range that is specifically designated by Microsoft to avoid conflicts with other apps and the base application.

The correct object range to use is:

An object range within the range of 70000000 to 74999999 that is requested from Microsoft (D):

This range is reserved for AppSource apps. Developers need to request this range from Microsoft to ensure that the objects used in their extension do not conflict with those used by other extensions or by the base application. Using this reserved range helps maintain the integrity and compatibility of extensions published on AppSource.

It's important to note that the other ranges mentioned (A, B, C, and E) are not suitable for apps intended for AppSource. Ranges 50000 to 59999 and 50000 to 99999 are typically reserved for per-tenant customizations or partner solutions, not for distribution on AppSource. The standard range 1 to 49999 is reserved for the base application objects, and using an object range divided by countries (C) is not a standard practice for AppSource apps.

NEW QUESTION # 78

The company plans to make changes to the objects.

You need to identify the application layer for each object in Visual Studio Code.

Explanation:

Explanation:

Language table # System layer

Activities Cue table # Base layer

Extension Management codeunit # System layer

Business Unit Card page # Base layer

Application Layers in Business Central:

In Business Central, there are different layers such as Base and System, which represent different levels of the application architecture. Here's a breakdown of where each object is likely to belong based on typical Business Central architecture:

* Language Table: This table typically belongs to the System layer, as language and localization features are often part of the foundational aspects of the system.

* Activities Cue Table: This would likely be found in the Base layer because it involves business logic that supports user interface elements (like activity cues) specific to the Business Central application.

* Extension Management Codeunit: The Extension Management Codeunit likely belongs to the System layer, as it deals with handling extensions, which is closely related to the core system functionality for managing and deploying changes.

* Business Unit Card Page: This object would typically be part of the Base layer, as it is a business-specific object that handles the user interface for business unit data, part of the core Business Central application.

NEW QUESTION # 79

A company has a task that is performed infrequently. Users often need to look up the procedure to complete the task.

The company requires a wizard that leads users through a sequence of steps to complete the task.

You need to create the page to enable the wizard creation.

Which page type should you use?

- A. List
- B. NavigatePage
- C. RoleCenter
- D. Card

Answer: B

Explanation:

For a task that is performed infrequently and requires users to follow a sequence of steps, a wizard-like interface is ideal. In Microsoft Dynamics 365 Business Central, the NavigatePage page type (A) is best suited for this purpose. NavigatePage is designed to guide users through a series of steps or pages, allowing them to complete a task by making choices or entering data in a structured manner. This page type is often used for setup wizards, data migration tasks, or any other process that benefits from a step-by-step approach. Unlike the other page types like Card (B), RoleCenter (C), or List (D), NavigatePage specifically supports the navigation and decision-making flow required for wizard creation, making it the optimal choice for this requirement.
