PMI PMO Certified Professional Sample Questions (Q43-Q48):

NEW QUESTION # 43

What is the recommended PMO VALUE RING evaluation cycle?

- A. 12-month cycles, starting on its set up or first evaluation.
- B. Only once, when the PMO is being set up.
- C. Every 5 years.
- D. There is no recommended cycle.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The PMO VALUE RING methodology, developed by the PMO Global Alliance, provides a structured approach to ensure the continuous improvement and alignment of PMOs with organizational needs. The recommended evaluation cycle for the PMO VALUE RING is 12 months, starting either from the PMO's initial setup or its first evaluation.

Continuous Improvement: The 12-month evaluation cycle is crucial because it allows PMOs to adapt to changes in the organization, market, and project environment. By evaluating annually, PMOs can identify gaps, realign with strategic goals, and implement necessary improvements.

Performance Monitoring: An annual review helps monitor the PMO's performance, assessing whether the expected value delivery aligns with stakeholder expectations. This cycle ensures that the PMO remains relevant and effective over time.

Flexibility: Although 12 months is the recommended cycle, the PMO VALUE RING methodology is flexible enough to allow for adjustments based on specific organizational needs. However, the 12-month cycle is a best practice for maintaining the PMO's strategic alignment.

PMI and PMO VALUE RING Reference:

The PMI's Standard for Portfolio Management and PMI's PMBOK Guide emphasize the importance of continuous monitoring and evaluation in project, program, and portfolio management. Regular cycles ensure that the PMO is effectively contributing to the organization's strategy.

The PMO VALUE RING provides a clear framework for PMOs to follow, ensuring that value is consistently delivered. The 12-month cycle recommendation aligns with the principle of continuous improvement advocated by PMI.

By adhering to the 12-month evaluation cycle, PMOs can ensure they are always aligned with the organization's evolving needs, thus maximizing their value contribution.

Follow-Up Questions:

How can a PMO integrate lessons learned from the 12-month PMO VALUE RING evaluation into its strategic planning process?

What are some potential risks of not following the recommended 12-month evaluation cycle for a PMO?

How can the PMO VALUE RING methodology be adapted to suit smaller organizations with limited resources?

NEW QUESTION # 44

During a discussion on PMO performance, the team is debating how often the PMO should be assessed and possibly redesigned to enhance its effectiveness. Some members advocate for long-term evaluations, while others propose more frequent assessments.

What would be the most effective evaluation cycle for the PMO?

- A. Only once, during the initial setup phase of the PMO, to establish its baseline functions
- B. Every 5 years, allowing enough time for significant organizational changes and maturation
- C. A 12-month cycle, starting from its setup or the first evaluation, to ensure continuous improvement and alignment
- D. There is no set evaluation cycle, as the methodology can be applied as needed

Answer: C

Explanation:

Evaluating the PMO on a 12-month cycle ensures it remains responsive to organizational changes, stakeholder needs, and emerging trends. Regular assessments support continuous improvement and alignment with goals, helping the PMO adapt to evolving priorities and challenges.

NEW QUESTION # 45

The performance of the PMO should be evaluated:

- A. With a unique and indispensable performance indicator that demonstrates the impact of the PMO on the business.
- B. By an independent audit, to ensure an exempt evaluation.
- C. In a different and specific way for each function.
- D. Annually, to ensure the alignment of the PMO with the needs of the organization.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The performance of a PMO should be evaluated based on the specific nature of each function it performs. Different functions, such as governance, risk management, or resource allocation, will have different metrics and performance indicators. A one-size-fits-all evaluation would not accurately capture the performance of each distinct function, and thus, PMO evaluations must consider each function's contribution and how it supports the organization's strategic goals.

NEW QUESTION # 46

A PMO is reviewing the progress of its functions to determine how their maturity has evolved over time. The team debates whether resource allocation, elapsed time, or evidence of sophistication improvements are the best indicators. What demonstrates the evolution of the maturity of a given function?

- A. The presence of evidence improvements in how the function is performed
- B. The total time elapsed since the function was first implemented
- C. The amount of resources allocated to support the function over time
- D. The specific business results achieved as a direct benefit of the function

Answer: A

Explanation:

The evolution of maturity is reflected in observable improvements in how functions are executed. This includes advancements in processes, tools, and methodologies, demonstrating enhanced capability and alignment with goals. Time elapsed or resources allocated are not direct indicators of functional maturity.

NEW QUESTION # 47

Two PMO professionals were allocated to execute a specific function. The allocated professionals have, respectively, Personal Competency Adherence Indicators (p-CAI) of 75% and 65% for this function. It's observed that the Competency Adherence Indicator of the Function (f-CAI) is 85%. We could say that:

- A. The f-CAI calculation was done incorrectly and the correct result would be 70%.
- B. The f-CAI is calculated according to the goal established by the PMO stakeholders.
- C. The f-CAI is calculated considering the best performance (p-CAI) among the members of the PMO allocated in the function, justifying the f-CAI equal to 85%.
- D. The calculation was done correctly, but there is not enough information available to justify the f-CAI equal to 85%.

Answer: D
