NEW QUESTION # 88
Which of the following should be used to branch a flow?

- A. If Elase condition
- B. Branching Element
- C. If condition
- D. Decision Element

Answer: D

Explanation:
To branch a flow, the Decision Element (B) should be used. The Decision Element allows for defining multiple outcomes based on specified conditions, directing the flow down different paths based on the data processed. This is essential for creating dynamic flows that can adapt to varying business logic.Reference: Salesforce Help Documentation on Flow Elements

NEW QUESTION # 89
What should an Administrator do to allow the value of a variable to be get by sources that started the flow?

- A. Select "Available for output" checkbox
- B. Select "Field is required" checkbox
- C. Select 'Allow Multiple Values" checkbox
- D. Select "Available for input" checkbox

Answer: A

Explanation:
To allow the value of a variable to be accessed by sources that started the flow, the administrator should select the "Available for output" checkbox (C) for the variable. This setting makes the variable's value accessible outside the flow, allowing it to be used by processes or elements that initiated the flow, facilitating the passing of data between the flow and other processes.Reference: Salesforce Help Documentation on Flow Variables.
