Typically, SAFe prioritizes Capabilities based on which of the following?

- A. WSJF (Weighted Shortest Job First)
- B. Business value
- C. Capacity allocation according to budget
- D. CoD (Cost of Delay)

Answer: A

Explanation:

SAFe recommends prioritizing Features and Capabilities using the Weighted Shortest Job First (WSJF) method. WSJF incorporates business value, time criticality, risk reduction, opportunity enablement, and job size to determine the most economically valuable items to work on next.

"WSJF is the recommended method for prioritizing Features and Capabilities in the Program and Solution Backlogs." (Source: SAFe 6.0 Framework: WSJF; SPC 6.0 Guide, "Building Solutions with Agile Product Delivery")

NEW QUESTION # 22

WSJF is recommended for prioritizing the Team Backlog.

- A. True
- B. False

Explanation:

WSJF (Weighted Shortest Job First) is a prioritization method recommended by SAFe for use at the Program and Portfolio levels, especially for prioritizing Features and Epics. At the Team level, backlog items (Stories) are generally prioritized based on local context, dependencies, and feedback, not through WSJF.

"WSJF is the recommended approach for prioritizing the Program Backlog (Features). It is generally not used for the Team Backlog (Stories), which are usually prioritized in collaboration with the Product Owner based on iteration goals, dependencies, and value."
