- A. Integrations must be exported as a package if you want to import them into another OIC environment.
- B. Imported integrations can be reconfigured to use different connection resources by using the OIC REST API.
- C. Exported integrations include all their dependent connection resource information except URLs and credentials.
- D. Imported integrations cannot be immediately activated if their dependent connection resources are not already present in the target OIC environment.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

OIC supports exporting and importing integrations for migration or backup:

* Option A: True-activation requires all dependent connections (e.g., adapters) to exist in the target environment; otherwise, manual configuration is needed.

* Option B: True-exported integrations (IAR files) include connection metadata but exclude sensitive data like URLs and credentials for security.

* Option D: True-the OIC REST API allows post-import reconfiguration of connections.

NEW QUESTION # 76

- B. Business to Business (B2B)
- C. Application Integration
- D. Data stream analytics
- E. Web and Mobile application creation
- F. Enterprise Service Bus (ESB)

Answer: B,C,D,F

Explanation:

The four key features of Oracle Integration Cloud Enterprise (OIC) are:

* Application Integration: OIC excels at integrating various applications, on-premises systems, and cloud services.

* Enterprise Service Bus (ESB): OIC provides a central hub for managing communication between services, enabling message routing, transformation, and security enforcement.

* Business to Business (B2B): OIC enables secure and reliable B2B communication.

* Stream Analytics: OIC includes Stream Analytics, which allows real-time event analysis in Apache Spark-based systems.

* Web and Mobile Application Creation is not a direct feature of OIC.

* OCI VPC Endpoints enhance security but are not core to OIC itself.

NEW QUESTION # 77

As an integration developer, you are creating an integration in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) to transform a payload with multiple orders. You need to configure a for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually. How do you correctly configure the for-each action to loop through each order and process them individually?

- A. Select the Parallel Processing option and set the number of threads to the number of orders.
- B. Select the Group By option and group the orders by the order number.
- C. Select the Sequential Processing option and set the batch size to the number of orders.
- D. Select the Repeating Element field and map the source element that contains the orders.

Answer: D

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

The For Each action in OIC iterates over a collection (e.g., multiple orders in a payload). Correct configuration involves:

* Option C: Selecting the Repeating Element field and mapping it to the source element (e.g., /orders /order) containing the list of orders ensures OIC loops through each item individually. This is the standard and correct approach.

* Option A: Parallel Processing exists but isn't default for For Each; it's an advanced setting requiring manual thread configuration, not ideal for basic iteration.

* Option B: Group By is for aggregation, not individual processing, and doesn't apply here.

* Option D: Sequential Processing is implied in For Each, but "batch size" isn't a configuration option for this action-it's relevant to Stage File operations.

Mapping the repeating element ensures precise, individual order processing.
