NEW QUESTION # 146

You have a Microsoft Office 365 subscription named contoso.com.

You need to create the Microsoft Teams teams shown in the following table.

Name	Requirement
Sales	Users can join only once they are approved.
General	All contoso.com users are included automatically.
Projects	Users can join without approval.

What should you configure each team? To answer, drag the appropriate team types to the correct teams. Each team type may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

The screenshot shows a drag-and-drop interface for configuring Microsoft Teams. On the left, there is a list of team types: 'Org-wide', 'Private', and 'Public'. On the right, there are three team configurations: 'Sales:', 'General:', and 'Project:'. Each configuration has a 'Team type' box next to it. The interface is titled 'Team Types' and 'Answer Area'.

NEW QUESTION # 147

You need to restrict external Teams communication for both calling and personal chat to only organizational users that use the microsoft.com domain.

Answer:

Explanation:

See the solution in the explanation below:

Explanation

To restrict external Teams communication for both calling and personal chat to only organizational users that use the microsoft.com domain, you need to use the Teams admin center to configure the external access settings. Here are the steps to follow:

Sign in to the Teams admin center with your Microsoft 365 username and password.

In the left navigation, go to Org-wide settings > External access.

Under External access, turn on the toggle for Users can communicate with other Skype for Business and Teams users.

Under Cross-tenant access settings, click Manage settings.

In the Cross-tenant access settings pane, under Calling and chat, select Allow specific domains and then enter microsoft.com in the box below. This will allow your users to communicate with Microsoft users via calling and chat.

Click Save.

Note: You also need to make sure that microsoft.com has configured their external access settings to allow communication with your domain. See Communicate with users from other organizations for more details.
