Nutanix Certified Professional - Unified Storage (NCP-US) v6 exam Sample Questions (Q64-Q69):

NEW QUESTION # 64

A company uses a Nutanix 3-node cluster environment. In Prism Pro, the Capacity Runway shows these capacity values:

Max Capacity: 6 TiB

Effective Capacity 4 TiB

The company wants to upgrade the environment to use an RF3 container and also requires all cluster nodes to be the same model. What must the effective capacity Of the Nutanix cluster be to support the new RF3 container?

- A. 6 TiB
- B. 10 TiB
- C. 9 TiB
- D. 4 TiB

Answer: C

Explanation:

To support a new RF3 container, the effective capacity of the Nutanix cluster must be at least three times the size of the data that needs to be stored on it3. This is because RF3 means that each data block is replicated three times across different nodes or blocks for fault tolerance3.

This is because if you have 4 TiB of effective capacity with RF2 (which means each data block is replicated twice), then you need 9 TiB of effective capacity with RF3 (which means each data block is replicated three times).

NEW QUESTION # 16

The exhibit shows a Prism Pro scenario result created by an administrator for a Nutanix cluster.

The physical nodes in the cluster include these characteristics:

144 GHz CPU power

3 Tib RAM

41.63 TiB storage

The total target workload requests are:

5 Ghz CPU

10 GB RAM

40 TiB storage

What should be changed to have a good capacity runway at least for the next 6 months?

- A. Increase the storage capacity for physical nodes.
- B. Review storage capacity requested by the workload.
- C. Add new physical node to the configuration.
- D. Change the date of physical node availability.

Answer: B

Explanation:

According to the Nutanix Support & Insights website¹, capacity runway is an estimate of how long your cluster can support its current workload before running out of resources². The exhibit shows that your cluster has a storage runway of only 1 month, which means you will run out of storage space soon. However, your CPU and memory runways are much longer (more than 2 years), which means you have plenty of CPU and memory resources available. Therefore, it might be possible to reduce the storage capacity requested by your workload or optimize your storage utilization to extend your storage runway. Alternatively, you could also increase the storage capacity for physical nodes or add new physical nodes to the configuration, but these options might be more costly and complex.
