Oracle Database Administration II Sample Questions (Q278-Q283):

NEW QUESTION # 278

You plan to install Oracle Grid Infrastructure for a Standalone Server and Oracle Database for the first time on a server. Examine this command and its outcome:

id oracle

uid=54321 (oracle) gid=54321(oinstall) groups=54321(oinstall), 54322 (dba)

Which two are true? (Choose two.)

- A. oracle can own an Oracle Database installation but not an Oracle Grid Infrastructure installation.
- B. oracle will be an owner of the Oracle Inventory.
- C. oracle must be the owner of every Oracle Database installation.
- D. oracle will be granted the SYSASM privilege when installing the Oracle Database software.
- E. The user account, oracle, and group, oinstall, can be used for all Oracle software installations.

Answer: A,D

NEW QUESTION # 279

Which four are true about duplicating a database using Recovery Manager (RMAN)? (Choose four.)

- A. A new DBID is always created for the duplicated database.
- B. Duplication can be done by having the auxiliary database instance pull backup sets from the target database instance.
- C. A connection to the target database instance is always required.
- D. Duplication can be done by having the target database instance push copies to the auxiliary database instance.
- E. A connection to an auxiliary instance is always required.
- F. A backup of the target database is always required.
- G. A connection to the recovery catalog instance is always required.
- H. A subset of the target database can be duplicated.

Answer: B,D,E,H

Explanation:

A duplicate database is a copy of your target database. With the FOR STANDBY clause, it keeps the same unique database identifier(DBID); If FOR STANDBY not specified it creates a new DBID.

The duplicate database can include the same content or only a subset from the source database.

It can be in the same host or a separate host.

The principal work of the duplication is performed by the auxiliary channels. These channels correspond to a server session on the auxiliary instance on the destination host for backup based duplication.

For active database duplication the target channels perform the work of pushing data file copies to the auxiliary instance (if number of allocated target channels is greater than the number of allocated auxiliary channels).

NEW QUESTION # 280

Which three are true about transporting databases across platforms using Recovery Manager (RMAN) image copies? (Choose three.)

- A. A new DBID is automatically created for the transported database.
- B. Databases can be transported between systems with different endian formats.
- C. By default, the transported database will use Oracle Managed Files (OMF)
- D. Data files can be converted on the source system
- E. The password file is automatically converted by RMAN.
- F. Data files can be converted on the destination system

Answer: C,D,F

Explanation:

A: If you do not provide a destination, then the DB_FILE_CREATE_DEST initialization parameter must be set in the target platform. RMAN restores the data files to the location specified by this parameter using new Oracle Managed File (OMF) names.

BC: While creating the cross-platform backup to transport a database, you can convert the database either on the source database or the destination database. The benefit of performing the conversion on the destination database is that the processing overhead of the convert operation is offloaded from the source to the destination database.

D is incorrect. Convert operation will not change DBID explicitly. You will have to use DBNEWID utility to change if you wish to.

E is incorrect. The source platform and destination platform must use the same endian format.

NEW QUESTION # 281

Choose two. In performance management, which two factors might reduce the ability of an application to scale to a larger number of users?

- A. poorly trained users who do not commit transactions
- B. the number of data files containing extents belonging to tables updated by a transaction
- C. poorly written SQL
- D. issuing multiple savepoints during a transaction
- E. the number of tablespaces containing tables updated by a transaction

Answer: A,B

NEW QUESTION # 282

Choose the best answer. Which statement correctly describes the SQL profiling performed by the SQL Tuning Advisor?

- A. It is a set of recommendations by the optimizer to restructure a SQL statement to avoid suboptimal execution plans.
- B. It is auxiliary information collected by the optimizer for a SQL statement to help use better joins orders.
- C. It is a set of recommendations by the optimizer to create new indexes.
- D. It is a set of recommendations by the optimizer to change the access methods used.
- E. It is auxiliary information collected by the optimizer for a SQL statement to eliminate estimation error.

Answer: D
