Google Associate Google Workspace Administrator Sample Questions (Q63-Q68):

NEW QUESTION # 63

Your organization's users are reporting that a large volume of legitimate emails are being misidentified as spam in Gmail. You want to troubleshoot this problem while following Google-recommended practices. What should you do?

- A. Advise users to individually allowlist senders.
- B. Disable spam filtering for all users.
- C. Adjust the organization's mail content compliance settings in the Admin console.
- D. Contact Google Workspace support and report a suspected system-wide spam filter malfunction.

Answer: D

Explanation:

If legitimate emails are being misidentified as spam across the organization, it suggests that there may be a broader issue with the spam filtering system. Contacting Google Workspace support to investigate and resolve the problem is the recommended approach. Disabling spam filtering or adjusting individual settings may not resolve the root cause and could potentially lead to further issues.

NEW QUESTION # 64

During a recent Google Meet video conference, several employees reported that they could not hear the presenters. The presenters confirmed that their laptops' microphones were working. The affected employees were all using company-issued laptops. You need to quickly diagnose the source of the issue. What should you do first?

- A. Check the Admin console to determine whether there are recent Meet-related notifications or alerts.
- B. Use the Meet quality tool for each affected user to analyze their microphone settings and configurations during the meeting.
- C. Verify that the audio drivers on the affected laptops are up-to-date and functioning correctly.
- D. Check if Context-Aware access rules were set to prevent Meet access from the user's network location.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Since the presenters' microphones are working, the issue likely lies with the affected employees' laptops. The first step in diagnosing the problem is to verify that the audio drivers on the affected laptops are up-to-date and functioning correctly. Outdated or malfunctioning audio drivers can cause issues with hearing sound during video conferences. Once the drivers are confirmed to be functional, further troubleshooting steps can be taken if necessary.

NEW QUESTION # 65

Your organization uses live-streaming to host large Google Meet meetings. You need to limit the participation to affiliated Google Workspace domains by using the Admin console. What should you do?

- A. Add the Trusted Workspace domain names in the Stream dialog box.
- B. Turn on in-house live streaming. Invite users from affiliated domains.
- C. Add participants to an organizational unit (OU). Turn on live streaming.
- D. Turn off live streaming to Youtube.

Answer: C

Explanation:

By organizing participants into an organizational unit (OU) in the Admin console, you can control access to live streaming and ensure that only users from affiliated Google Workspace domains are allowed to participate in the live-streamed meetings. Turning on live streaming within this context will ensure that the meeting is restricted to the appropriate participants from the specified domains.

NEW QUESTION # 66

The names and capacities of several conference rooms have been updated. You need to use the most efficient way to update these details.

What should you do?

- A. Edit each resource in the Google Admin console.
- B. Export the resource list to a CSV file, make the changes, and re-import the updated file.
- C. Delete the existing resources and recreate the resources with the updated information.
- D. Add the modified rooms as new resources. Tell employees not to use old rooms.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Exporting the resource list to a CSV file, making the necessary updates, and then re-importing the file is the most efficient method for updating multiple conference rooms at once. This approach allows you to make bulk updates quickly without needing to edit each resource individually or delete and recreate rooms. It also ensures that the updated information is applied to all affected rooms at once.

NEW QUESTION # 67

Your company's security team should be able to investigate unauthorized external file sharing. You need to ensure that the security team can use the security investigation tool and you must follow the principle of least privilege. What should you do?

- A. Grant the super admin role to a delegate from the security team.
- B. Share the Drive audit log with the security team.
- C. Create a custom admin role with security center privileges. Assign the role to the individual security team members.
- D. Create a pre-built reporting role. Assign the role to the security team alias.

Answer: C

Explanation:

By creating a custom admin role with security center privileges, you can ensure that the security team has the necessary access to investigate unauthorized external file sharing while adhering to the principle of least privilege. This approach provides the security team with the specific permissions they need without granting unnecessary broader privileges, such as those associated with the super admin role.
