ISTQB Certified Tester Advanced Level - Test Manager Sample Questions (Q48-Q53):

NEW QUESTION # 48

Your team has been assigned to a new project. You have a mix of manual testers and automation engineers but everyone is currently doing manual testing. The development team has already decided to use DevOps as its approach but they have never used it before and are happy to take your input. Unfortunately, about 50% of the development is completed already. In the testing your team is doing, they are finding that about 40% of the defects they catch are actually regressions caused by other changes. Given this information, what should you do to help mitigate risk?

- A. Review the policies regarding defect reporting and ensure your team is adding all the necessary information to each defect report.
- B. Pivot part of the team from manual testing to test automation development to address the regression risk and implement better quality gates to reduce regressions.
- C. Implement code reviews for the development team and require tester signoff before code can be released into the pipeline.
- D. Optimize the test environment to provide faster testing with more accurate test data and better testing tools to provide wider coverage.

Answer: B

Explanation:

* Identifying the Risk:

* High regression rates (40%) indicate a need to improve regression testing capabilities and reduce risks.

* Test automation addresses regressions effectively by enabling faster and repeated testing.

* Evaluation of Options:

* A is irrelevant to the regression risks highlighted.

* B is correct because it emphasizes test automation for regressions and quality gates to prevent defect leaks.

* C is partially valid but does not directly address regression issues.

* D focuses on development practices, which, while helpful, does not directly reduce regression risks.

References and Syllabus Alignment:

* This aligns with ISTQB guidelines on balancing manual and automated testing in regression scenarios (TM-1.6.3, TM-1.4.2).

NEW QUESTION # 49

Mary is an external IT auditor. She is conducting a review of the system-level testing done by Greg's functional testing team. Which of the following items from Mary's assessment summary should concern Greg the most? [2]

- A. A few of the Test Objectives did not have any Test Conditions assigned to them.
- B. There were Test Conditions which didn't tie back to any Business Requirement.
- C. Some of the Test Objectives could only be mapped back to a single Business Requirement.
- D. All the Business requirements could be traced to Test Objectives. However, there was no tracing from the Business Requirements to the project's test schedule.

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 50

Which of the following should be considered the biggest risk to the schedule when trying to implement formal scripted test cases early in the SDLC for a system with a large GUI front end? [2]

- A. Test maintenance might be required due to changes in the presentation layer.
- B. The developers may feel pressured not to change anything.
- C. Early implementation might uncover errors in the design documentation.
- D. The testers will be working on analysis and design early in the schedule.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the context of a system with a large GUI front end, the biggest risk to the schedule when implementing formal scripted test cases early in the SDLC is the potential need for test maintenance due to changes in the presentation layer. This is because the GUI is often subject to change, especially in the early stages of development, as feedback is received and design adjustments are made. These changes can render early test scripts obsolete, requiring updates and maintenance, which can be time-consuming and delay the testing schedule.

NEW QUESTION # 51

You are performing a risk assessment for a financial application using quantitative risk analysis. The following is a table describing the analysis undertaken so far:

Product Risk Item	Likelihood	Impact	Exposure	Cost of Testing
PR1	30 %	100 €		300 €
PR2	5 %	100,000 €		400 €
PR3	0.4 %	1,500 €		500 €
PR4		10,000 €		100 €

Which of the following statements correctly describes the outcome of the risk assessment using the "Cost of Exposure" technique in this scenario? SELECT ONE OPTION

- A. PR3 and PR4 should be tested while PR1 and PR2 should not be tested.
- B. Testing for failures associated to PR4 should happen first.
- C. PR1, PR3 and PR4 should be tested while PR2 should not be tested
- D. PR2 should be tested while PR1, PR3 and PR4 should not be tested

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 52

You are working on a project that is having problems with regressions. With each release of software given to the test team, 50% of the defects found are actually regressions. To combat this you have decided to implement test automation. You have given your automation team the following goal

"Implement test automation to automate 90% of the manual regression tests before the product release date." Which of the following is likely an issue with this goal being defined as "SMART"?

- A. It is not measurable against the goals of the project
- B. It is not specific on what needs to be done
- C. it is not clear if this is achievable in the time allowed
- D. It is not relevant to the project objectives

Answer: C

Explanation:

Understanding SMART Goals:

SMART goals must be Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, and Time-bound.

The goal "automate 90% of the manual regression tests before the product release date" may not be achievable depending on the time constraints and resources available.

Evaluation of Options:

A is correct because the issue lies in whether automating 90% is feasible within the timeline.

B is incorrect as the goal is specific.

C is incorrect because automating regression tests is relevant to reducing regressions.

D is incorrect since the goal is measurable by the percentage of automation achieved.

Reference and Syllabus Alignment:

Aligned with ISTQB Advanced Test Management guidelines on goal setting and test automation strategies (TM-1.6.2).
