Apple Deployment and Management Exam Sample Questions (Q217-Q222):

NEW QUESTION # 217

Which two payloads do you need to connect Apple devices to 802.1X networks? (Select two)

- A. Identity
- B. Encryption
- C. Certificates
- D. Network
- E. Trust

Answer: C,D

Explanation:

Connecting Apple devices to enterprise-grade 802.1X networks requires delivering specific payloads through MDM. Apple Learning details that an MDM profile must include a Network payload to define the SSID, authentication method, and connection settings. Additionally, devices need trusted certificates to authenticate with the RADIUS server, making the Certificates payload essential. The Certificates payload ensures the device can validate the server's identity and provide the client certificate if needed. Trust and Identity payloads are not standalone for Wi-Fi; they are part of certificate configuration within the Certificates payload. Encryption is a property of the authentication method, not a payload. Thus, the required payloads for reliable 802.1X deployment are Network and Certificates, ensuring devices connect securely without requiring end-user configuration.

NEW QUESTION # 218

Which setting is required for automatic proxy configuration when you configure the Global HTTP Proxy payload?

- A. Proxy server URL
- B. User name and password
- C. Port
- D. Proxy type

Answer: D

Explanation:

When deploying a Global HTTP Proxy payload, the required field to enable automatic proxy configuration is the Proxy type. Apple documentation specifies that administrators must set this field to either "Manual" or "Auto." If "Auto" is selected, the device will automatically fetch and apply the proxy settings from a PAC (Proxy Auto-Configuration) file. While fields like URL or Port may be needed depending on the type, the fundamental requirement that determines how the proxy is applied is the Proxy type itself. Without this configuration, the device cannot distinguish between a manual or automatic proxy setup.

NEW QUESTION # 219

Which organization data is separated from user data when an iPhone enrolls in MDM with User Enrollment?

- A. Safari profiles
- B. Contacts
- C. Safari bookmarks
- D. Notes

Answer: D

Explanation:

User Enrollment separates managed data. The iOS Deployment Reference states, "With User Enrollment, managed data such as Notes associated with a Managed Apple ID is separated from personal data." Options A, B, and C aren't inherently separated unless tied to managed apps.

NEW QUESTION # 220

You're remotely erasing a supervised iPad. What can you preserve to speed up redeployment?

- A. Existing eSIM
- B. Device passcode
- C. Installed apps
- D. User data and settings

Answer: A

Explanation:

Preserving eSIM speeds redeployment. The Mobile Device Management Protocol Reference states, "When erasing a supervised iPad, the preserveDataPlan option retains the existing eSIM, avoiding reactivation delays." References:

Mobile Device Management Protocol Reference, "EraseDevice Command" section.

iOS Deployment Reference, "eSIM Preservation" section.

NEW QUESTION # 221

Which of these is required to use Shared iPad?

- A. A device configured for Shared iPad in Apple Business Manager
- B. An MDM command to configure Shared iPad

- C. The users configured for Shared iPad in Apple Business Manager
- D. An enrollment profile configured for Shared iPad in MDM

Answer: D

Explanation:

Shared iPad is designed for multi-user environments such as schools or shared workstations. Apple Learning specifies that the core requirement is an enrollment profile configured for Shared iPad within the MDM solution. This profile enables the device to support multiple Managed Apple IDs, allowing each user to sign in and access their own apps and data, stored locally and in iCloud.

Devices must also be supervised and have sufficient storage. While ABM supports Managed Apple IDs, it is not where Shared iPad is enabled; instead, the function is triggered by the enrollment profile during setup. Apple stresses this distinction to ensure IT admins configure the workflow correctly at the MDM level rather than attempting to activate it solely in ABM or through one-time commands.
