- A. Maximize their dependence and impact on nature
- B. Minimize their interface with nature
- C. Evaluate material risks and opportunities for their operations

Answer: C

Explanation:

The LEAP assessment framework developed by the Taskforce on Nature-related Financial Disclosures (TNFD) consists of four phases: Locate, Evaluate, Assess, and Prepare. This framework is designed to help organizations understand and address nature-related risks and opportunities.

Locate: This phase involves identifying and mapping the interface of the organization with nature. It includes understanding the dependencies and impacts of the organization's activities on nature.

Evaluate: In this phase, organizations evaluate the material risks and opportunities that arise from their interactions with nature. This includes assessing how these risks and opportunities could affect their operations, value chains, and financial performance.

Assess: Organizations conduct detailed assessments of the material risks and opportunities identified in the Evaluate phase. This involves deeper analysis to quantify and prioritize the risks and opportunities.

Prepare: The final phase involves preparing strategic responses to mitigate risks and capitalize on opportunities. Organizations develop plans and actions to manage nature-related risks and enhance resilience.

Option C, "Evaluate material risks and opportunities for their operations," aligns with the Evaluate phase of the LEAP framework, making it the correct answer.

NEW QUESTION # 455

Fund labelers are most likely classified as:

- A. financial advisers
- B. fund promoters.
- C. regulators

Answer: B

Explanation:

Fund labelers are most likely classified as fund promoters. Fund promoters are responsible for marketing and promoting investment funds, including those with specific labels such as ESG or green funds.

* Marketing Role: Fund promoters play a key role in marketing investment products to potential investors. They use labels such as ESG, green, or sustainable to attract investors interested in these themes.
