try our products, you will love it soon, and you will never regret it when you buy it.

Cisco Designing Cisco Enterprise Wireless Networks Sample Questions (Q182-Q187):

NEW QUESTION # 182

An engineer changed the TPC Power Threshold for a wireless deployment from the default value to -65 dBm. The engineer conducts a new post-deployment Survey to validate the results. What is the expected outcome?

- A. Decreased client signal strength
- B. Increased received sensitivity
- C. Increase cell size
- D. Decreased channel overlap

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 183

An engineer must produce a passive survey report. The coverage heat map shows the entire site with all signal levels. To see only the desired coverage, which action must the engineer take?

- A. Use the RSSI calibration tool to configure the receiver sensitivity.
- B. Use the RSSI slider to set the heat map to the desired cutoff filter.
- C. Filter the results to show the desired APs only.
- D. Change the color scheme to show the desired heat map.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 184

An engineer is performing a predictive wireless design for a medical treatment environment, which requires data and voice services. What is the minimum requirement for the design?

- A. continuous -67 dBm coverage from one access point
- B. overlapping -67 dBm coverage from two access points
- C. overlapping -72 dBm coverage from two access points
- D. continuous -72 dBm coverage from one access point

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

✓ The TX power of 17 dBi is 50mW. What you see on your laptop of a -20 dBm is a good signal. Cisco's recommendation for data is a max of -72 dBm and for voice it is -65dBm. You will notice this when you start walking away from your AP. So if you are planning on adding another ap, you would want your coverage to be bordering either -72 dBm or -65 dBm.

So -67dBm covers both Data & Voice with a single AP

NEW QUESTION # 185

An engineer has performed a post-deployment site survey and noticed that access points were installed in suboptimal locations due to physical restrictions and obstacles. Which action must the engineer take to resolve this deployment issue?

- A. Set all Auto RE parameters to factory default
- B. Set DCA Channel Assignment Method to freeze.
- C. Set TPC maximum and minimum power levels.
- D. Set static channels on all AP radios.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Suspect poor coverage/not enough AP density - If AP transmit power is already at the maximum, you can enable the lower data rates to allow clients to connect from farther away. This has a negative impact on performance, but it can help the customer understand that additional APs might be necessary. <https://www.cisco.com/c/en/us/support/docs/wireless/5500-series-wireless-controllers/116057-site-survey-guidelines-wlan-00.html>

An engineer is about to establish a mobility peer connection between a Cisco Catalyst 9800-CL version 16.10.1e and Cisco AireOS 5520 version 8.8.120.0. The data path between the 9800-CL and AireOS 5520 is down, but its control path is up. Based on the configuration, what is the cause of the issue?

- A. Encrypted mobility is being used in the 5520 configuration leading to data path down.
- B. The certificate hash key is incorrect leading to data path down.
- C. The data-link-encryption configuration is missing from the 9800-CL configuration.
- D. CAPS is used to key in MAC address in the IOS_XE configuration leading to data path down.

Answer: C
