Esri Enterprise Administration Professional 2201 Sample Questions (Q12-Q17):

NEW QUESTION # 12

A GIS analyst creates a layer in ArcGIS Pro that must be published to the ArcGIS Enterprise portal as a web service that supports editing. The analyst does not have a connection to the ArcGIS Server where the service must be published. What action should the analyst perform?

- A. Change the privileges on their user role to allow publishing
- B. Upload the layer to the portal as a layer package file and add it to a web map
- C. Create a service definition file to be published by a portal administrator

Answer: C

Explanation:

When a direct connection to the ArcGIS Server is not available, the recommended approach is to create a service definition (.sd) file in ArcGIS Pro. This file encapsulates the map, its data, and the necessary configurations for publishing. The analyst can then provide this file to a portal administrator, who can publish it to the ArcGIS Enterprise portal, ensuring the service supports editing as required.

Changing user privileges (Option B) does not address the lack of server connection. Uploading a layer package (Option C) does not result in a web service that supports editing capabilities.

NEW QUESTION # 13

A GIS administrator is analyzing the usage statistics of ArcGIS Enterprise. The administrator needs to pull tabular statistics on various groups and users about the type of content that they produce and consume.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Open ArcGIS Server statistics to create a report for commonly used items.
- B. Use ArcGIS Monitor to capture desired information over a period of time in a report.
- C. Run usage reports in Portal for ArcGIS to determine the effect on the organization.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 14

A GIS administrator needs to add a member to the ArcGIS Enterprise organization. This member will perform publishing and editing workflows.

Which user type and role should the member be assigned?

- A. The Editor user type and the Publisher role
- B. The GIS Professional user type and the Data Editor role
- C. The Creator user type and the Publisher role

Answer: C

Explanation:

In ArcGIS Enterprise, the Creator user type includes full privileges for content creation, sharing, and administration. When paired with the Publisher role, it grants the user the ability to publish hosted feature layers, map image layers, and other services, as well as perform editing tasks on existing data. This combination is specifically designed for users who require both publishing and editing capabilities.

The Editor user type is limited to editing and cannot publish content. The GIS Professional user type provides access to ArcGIS Pro but, when assigned the Data Editor role, restricts the user from publishing content. Therefore, only the Creator user type with Publisher role supports both publishing and editing workflows.

NEW QUESTION # 15

Users are reporting service timeouts and performance issues. The administrator notices that only the minimum number of instances are running during performance spikes. They want to monitor usage trends before adjusting instance settings.

Which action should the administrator perform?

- A. Change the log level to Debug in ArcGIS Server Manager
- B. Create a report of server statistics in ArcGIS Server Manager
- C. Enable Windows Performance Monitor
- D. Monitor Task Manager on each ArcGIS Server machine

Answer: B

Explanation:

To monitor usage patterns, including the number of requests and instances in use, ArcGIS Server provides statistics reports in Server Manager. These reports show peak and average service usage, helping administrators decide how to scale service instance counts.

From ArcGIS Server documentation:

"Use the ArcGIS Server Manager statistics reporting tool to monitor service usage trends over time. This data helps inform adjustments to instance counts."

* Option A gives only raw system metrics, not service-specific insights.

* Option B (Debug logs) causes overhead and isn't appropriate for monitoring trends.

NEW QUESTION # 16

A GIS administrator needs to change the ownership of a shared update group to a different user. The administrator receives an error message: "Unable to reassign the group at this time." What is causing this error?

- A. The sharing settings on the group are configured incorrectly
- B. It is not possible to reassign ownership of shared update groups
- C. The user does not have the correct privileges

Answer: C

Explanation:

The error message "Unable to reassign the group at this time" typically occurs when attempting to transfer ownership of a shared update group to a user who lacks the necessary privileges. Specifically, the new owner must have the privilege to create and own groups. If the user's role does not include this privilege, the ownership transfer will fail. To resolve this, ensure that the user has a role (either default or custom) that includes the privilege to create groups.
