Nutanix Certified Associate v6.10 Sample Questions (Q62-Q67):

NEW QUESTION # 62

An administrator wants to enable Windows Defender Credential Guard.
What must be enabled when creating the VM?

- A. Legacy BIOS
- B. UEFI
- C. HA
- D. Live Migration

Answer: B

Explanation:

To enable Windows Defender Credential Guard, the VM must be configured with UEFI (Unified Extensible Firmware Interface) instead of Legacy BIOS. UEFI provides the necessary support for Secure Boot and Virtualization-Based Security (VBS), both of which are prerequisites for Credential Guard.

Steps:

* When creating or editing the VM, select UEFI as the firmware type.

* Ensure Secure Boot and VBS are enabled in the OS configuration.

NEW QUESTION # 63

What is the purpose of the Recycle Bin?

- A. Keeps deleted VMs for 24 hours for recovery.
- B. Stores the OpLog's most recent deleted data in case of a CVM failure.
- C. Centralizes the deleted data from the different VMs in the cluster.
- D. Allows administrators to undo the last five actions.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 64

When configuring dual encryption, which key management method is supported?

- A. External Key Manager
- B. Native Key Manager
- C. Lockdown Mode Enabled
- D. Trusted Platform Module

Answer: A

Explanation:

When configuring dual encryption in Nutanix, an External Key Manager (EKM) is required. This allows the cluster to use an external hardware-based or software-based key management system to securely store and manage encryption keys. The combination of external and native encryption ensures compliance with high security standards.

* A. Trusted Platform Module: Incorrect, as TPM is not used for managing dual encryption keys.

* B. External Key Manager: Correct, as dual encryption relies on an external system to manage keys.

* C. Native Key Manager: Incorrect, as native key management alone does not support dual encryption.

* D. Lockdown Mode Enabled: Incorrect, as Lockdown Mode relates to cluster security, not encryption key management.

NEW QUESTION # 65

What is the easiest way to get a call back from Nutanix Support on an open ticket?

- A. Send an email to the technician.
- B. Select Reply within the existing ticket.
- C. Select Escalate within the existing ticket.
- D. Open a new ticket with Nutanix Support.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is D. Select Escalate within the existing ticket.

When working with Nutanix Support, the most effective and structured way to request a callback or faster response is to use the "Escalate" function available in the Support Portal for the specific support case. This formally flags the case for priority handling, prompting action such as:

* A direct call back from support.

* Assignment of a higher-tier engineer.

* Accelerated SLA response.

Clarifications:

* A. Emailing the technician may go unnoticed or be delayed.

- * B. Opening a new ticket introduces duplication and delays.
- * C. Replying within the case does not prompt immediate re-evaluation unless escalation is used.

Official Reference:

* My Nutanix Support Portal Guide - Case Management

* Excerpt: "Use the 'Escalate' option within an open case to notify Nutanix Support that a higher level of engagement is required."

NEW QUESTION # 66

Which storage protocol is supported for a datastore when using ESXi as the hypervisor within a Nutanix cluster?

- A. NFS
- B. iSCSI
- C. SMB
- D. LVM

Answer: A

Explanation:

When using ESXi as the hypervisor in a Nutanix cluster, the supported storage protocol for a datastore is NFS (Network File System). Nutanix exposes its distributed storage to ESXi hosts using NFS for VM storage.

This protocol is simple to configure and provides high performance and reliability through Nutanix's data services.

Other options:

* iSCSI: Not typically used for ESXi datastores but can be utilized for specific use cases like external storage connectivity.

* SMB: Not supported for ESXi datastores.

* LVM: Logical Volume Management is not used in this context.
