Oracle Planning and Collaboration Cloud 2024 Implementation Professional Sample Questions (Q135-Q140):

NEW QUESTION # 135

Segmentation was last run many months ago and the replenishment planner is concerned about losing track of items whose policies get changed due to the upcoming resegmentation. There are also a lot of manually assigned segments that must be preserved. Which two approaches for Execute Segmentation should you use in this planner?

- A. Auto-approve segmentation changes should not be selected.
- B. Save the last segmentation result should be selected.
- C. No other setting is needed.
- D. Retain segment overrides should be selected.

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Selecting "Save the last segmentation result" archives the current state, preserving historical data for tracking, while "Retain segment overrides" ensures that manually assigned segments are maintained, even after resegmentation. These options help mitigate disruption to existing manual segmentations during updates

NEW QUESTION # 136

What is the maximum number of levels permitted in backlog management's allocation rules hierarchy?

- A. 0
- B. 1
- C. 2
- D. 3

Answer: B

Explanation:

In Oracle Backlog Management, the allocation rules hierarchy allows for a maximum of three levels. This structure is used to prioritize and allocate supply based on criteria like customer, region, or product category, which helps optimize order fulfillment in line with business priorities

NEW QUESTION # 137

Planner 1 works in Europe and needs to see three measures in kilograms (the default UOM). Planner 2 is US-based and needs to see those same three measures in pounds. Both planners need to use five tables in their plan analyses on a regular basis. At the moment, all five tables are displayed in kilograms.

Which two options would most efficiently address this requirement?

- A. Duplicate all five tables, then format the three measures in the copied tables to be displayed in pounds.
- B. Open each table and format measures to duplicate the three measures and then format the duplicated measures to be displayed in pounds.
- C. There is no efficient solution to this requirement.
- D. Planner 2 opens a table, formats each measure to be displayed in pounds. When Planner 1 opens the same table, they reformat back to be displayed in kilograms.
- E. Create duplicates of the three measures in Manage Planning Measures and change each new measure's UOM from kilograms to pounds, then duplicate the five tables but use the new measures.

Answer: B,E

Explanation:

The most efficient way to accommodate both planners' needs is to create duplicates of the required measures in pounds and then duplicate the tables to include the reformatted measures. This allows both planners to access tables in their preferred units without repetitive reformatting

NEW QUESTION # 138

Your clients want to simulate how canceling demand may impact a plan. Which two steps must be done to simulate this change? (Choose two.)

- A. Manage Plans > Edit Plan Options > Add simulation set
- B. Run plan with 'Refresh with current data'
- C. Open plan > View Supplies and Demands > Remove the sales order from the plan and firm demand > Save changes
- D. Run plan with 'Do not refresh with current data'
- E. Open plan > View Supplies and Demands > Firm the demand and set firm quantity to 0 > Save changes

Answer: D,E

NEW QUESTION # 139

Which is not a potential source for a planning attribute?

- A. A key flexfield for items

- B. A descriptive flexfield for purchase requisitions or work orders
- C. An extensible flexfield for sales orders
- D. A standard attribute for purchase orders

Answer: A

Explanation:

Key flexfields are typically not used as sources for planning attributes within Oracle Planning Cloud. Planning attributes often derive from extensible or descriptive flexfields, which provide flexibility and customization options for various transactional records, such as sales orders and purchase requisitions
