BCS Practitioner Certificate in Business Analysis Practice v5.0 Sample Questions (Q19-Q24):

NEW QUESTION # 19

The directors of Swift Despatch believe they might be able to improve their service and reduce costs by opening a distribution centre in Coventry A team has been created to investigate this further, including representatives of logistics, property and marketing Yasmin has been asked to advise on how the Business Case should be progressed at this point.

What SHOULD she advise?

- A. Confirm with the directors the costs and benefits
- B. It is too early to work on the Business Case
- C. Create a detailed Business Case
- D. Create a high level Business Case

Answer: D

Explanation:

A high level Business Case is a document that provides a preliminary rationale and justification for a proposed business change or solution. It helps to establish the feasibility and desirability of the project and secure initial approval and funding for further investigation and development. Therefore, option A is the correct answer, as creating a high level Business Case would be the best activity to undertake at this point for introducing a new procurement system. A high level Business Case would help to define the problem or opportunity that motivates the project, identify and compare different procurement solutions based on their expected benefits, costs, risks and impacts, and recommend the preferred option for further analysis and evaluation. A high level Business Case would provide a solid foundation for proceeding with the project and preparing a detailed Business Case later on. Option B is not a correct answer, as creating a detailed Business Case would not be an appropriate activity to undertake at this point for introducing a new procurement system. A detailed Business Case is a document that provides a comprehensive rationale and justification for a proposed business change or solution. It helps to confirm the viability and worthiness of the project and secure final approval and funding for implementation and delivery. A detailed Business Case would require conducting extensive research and analysis on the preferred procurement solution and presenting its definitive benefits, costs, risks and impacts. A detailed Business Case would be premature and unnecessary at this point, as it would depend on the outcome of the high level Business Case first. Option C is not a correct answer, as it is too early to work on the Business Case would not be an appropriate activity to undertake at this point for introducing a new procurement system. Working on the Business Case is an essential activity for any project that involves significant business change or investment. It helps to provide evidence and support for the project and ensure its alignment with the organisation's strategy and objectives. Working on the Business Case would not be too early at this point, as it would help to establish the feasibility and desirability of the project and secure initial approval and funding for further investigation and development. Option D is not a correct answer, as confirming with the directors the costs and benefits would not be an appropriate activity to undertake at this point for introducing a new procurement system. Confirming with the directors the costs and benefits would require preparing a high level Business Case first to estimate and compare the financial implications of different options and recommend the best one for further development and implementation. Confirming with the directors the costs and benefits without preparing a high level Business Case first would risk providing inaccurate or incomplete information that may not reflect the value or feasibility of the project.

NEW QUESTION # 20

TeamClothing sells clothes through its shops based around the country. If a customer in a shop cannot find the item they wish to buy, a sales assistant can order it for them online and when it arrives, the customer can then collect the item from the shop. Customers may also order directly from TeamClothing's website. Orders from the website are usually delivered to the customer's home address. Online customers also automatically receive a monthly catalogue from the firm, which lists current offers. Three events are of particular interest:

Shop sales assistants ordering items for a customer online
Customers ordering through the website
Sending a monthly catalogue to website customers

How would these events be classified?

- A. External = 2, Time-based = 1
- B. Internal = 2; Time-based = 1.
- C. External = 3
- D. External = 1; Time-based = 1; Internal = 1.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation

An event is something that happens or occurs within or outside an organisation or project that triggers or affects an activity or process. Events can be classified into three types: external, internal and time-based.

Therefore, option B is the correct answer, as it correctly classifies the events of interest in this scenario according to their types.

External events are events that originate from outside the organisation or project and are beyond its control or influence. An example of an external event in this scenario is customers ordering through the website, as it originates from outside TeamClothing and is beyond its control or influence. There are two external events in this scenario. Internal events are events that originate from within the organisation or project and are under its control or influence. An example of an internal event in this scenario is shop sales assistants ordering items for a customer online, as it originates from within TeamClothing and is under its control or influence.
