NEW QUESTION # 78

You have an Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) synchronous integration flow that updates external systems with several invocations. However, several of your OIC integration clients are reporting that they are experiencing timeouts waiting for the response confirmation from this processing. Which is a legitimate strategy to mitigate this issue?

- A. Increase the blocking timeout within the OIC integration settings to allow for extended time.
- B. Change the implementation logic to invoke multiple fine-grained external API calls within a single loop.
- C. Change the design implementation strategy to an asynchronous flow that provides a separate notification to clients when the processing is complete.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Timeouts in synchronous flows:

- * Option A: Increasing timeouts might help but doesn't address efficiency and risks longer delays.
 - * Option B: Fine-grained calls in a loop could worsen performance, increasing latency.
 - * Option C: Switching to an asynchronous flow decouples client waits from processing, using callbacks or notifications- a proven mitigation strategy.
- C aligns with best practices for responsiveness.
