NEW QUESTION # 196

A network administrator is configuring a centralized control policy based on match action pairs for multiple conditions. Which order must be configured to prefer Prefix List over TLOC and TLOC over Origin?

- A. deterministic order
- B. nonsequential order
- C. highest to lowest sequence number
- D. lowest to highest sequence number

Answer: D

Explanation:

A centralized control policy consists of a series of numbered (ordered) sequences of match-action pairs that are evaluated in order, from lowest sequence number to highest sequence number. When a route or TLOC matches the match conditions, the associated action or actions are taken and policy evaluation on that packets stops. Keep this process in mind as you design your policies to ensure that the desired actions are taken on the items subject to policy.

If a route or TLOC matches no parameters in any of the sequences in the policy configure, it is, by default, rejected and discarded.

NEW QUESTION # 197

An engineer wants to track tunnel characteristics within a SLA-based policy for convergence. Which policy configuration will achieve this goal?

- A. App-route policy
- B. Data policy
- C. VPN membership policy
- D. Control policy

Answer: B

Explanation:

An application-aware routing policy matches applications with an SLA, that is, with the data plane tunnel performance characteristics that are necessary to transmit the applications' data traffic. The primary purpose of application-aware routing policy is to optimize the path for data traffic being transmitted by Cisco SD-WAN devices.

An application-aware routing policy is a type of centralized data policy.
