Medical Professional Certified Case Manager Certification Exam (CCM) Sample Questions (Q37-Q42):

NEW QUESTION # 37

For the FIDIC Red Book (both editions), the Contractor is required to submit a progress report monthly. When does the Contractor's reporting requirement end?

- A. Until all outstanding works as stated in the Taking-Over Certificate are completed.
- B. At the Date of Completion of the Works (irrespective of whether there is minor outstanding work to be performed).
- C. After issuance of the Taking-Over Certificate.
- D. After issuance of the Performance Certificate.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The Contractor's obligation to submit progress reports continues until all outstanding work identified in the Taking-Over Certificate has been completed. The Taking-Over Certificate signals substantial completion but may allow for outstanding minor works. Reporting is essential to monitor progress on these outstanding works.

The Performance Certificate relates to final contract completion but reporting usually ends earlier only after all works are completed.

Therefore, Option D is correct.

NEW QUESTION # 38

When does discharge become effective under the FIDIC Red Book (edition 1999)? (1 correct answer applies)

- A. When the Contractor receives its Performance Security from the Employer.
- B. When the Contractor receives full payment certified through the Final Payment Certificate and return of the Performance Security.
- C. When the Contractor receives full payment certified through the Final Payment Certificate.
- D. When the Employer counter signs a discharge notice as issued by the Contractor, following full payment and return of the Performance Security.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Under the FIDIC Red Book 1999, discharge becomes effective when the Contractor has received full payment certified by the Final Payment Certificate and the return of the Performance Security (Sub-Clause 14.10).

Both elements must be completed for the contract to be considered fully discharged, releasing the Contractor from further obligations or liabilities under the contract.

Option A is incomplete as payment alone does not fully discharge the Contractor.

Option B is incomplete as return of Performance Security alone is insufficient.

Option D is incorrect because the contract does not require a discharge notice signed by the Employer beyond these conditions.

NEW QUESTION # 39

Under FIDIC Red and Yellow Books (edition 2017), which two of the following elements shall form part of the revised programme?

Choose all of the correct answers (multiple possibilities)

- A. The actual progress to date, any delay to such progress and the effects of such delay on other activities (if any).
- B. The sequence and timing of the remedial work.
- C. Only the delivery dates of Plant and Materials which have not been delivered on Site yet.
- D. All internationally recognized holiday periods.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Under Sub-Clause 8.3 of the FIDIC Red and Yellow Books 2017, the revised programme must reflect:

The planned sequence and timing of works including recognized holidays (Option A) to ensure realistic scheduling.

The actual progress to date, delays, and impacts on subsequent activities (Option B) so that stakeholders can manage resources and risks effectively.

Option C (remedial work) is typically not part of the main programme but may be in a separate defect rectification schedule.

Option D is too narrow; the programme should include all activities, not only undelivered materials.

NEW QUESTION # 40

The FIDIC Books are evolutions of earlier contract models, and although the different versions of a specific model are not the same, familiarity in definitions and structure makes it easier to work with different FIDIC books as well as with their different editions.

Is this statement true or false?

- A. True
- B. False

Answer: A

Explanation:

This statement is true. The FIDIC suite of contracts, including Red, Yellow, and Silver Books, have evolved from earlier editions and contract models, but they retain a common structure, terminology, and approach to risk allocation. This familiarity allows professionals who know one FIDIC contract to adapt more easily to other FIDIC contracts or updated editions. For example, common terms like Engineer, Employer, Contractor, Variation, and Claims exist across editions with consistent meaning. The modular and familiar structure supports easier contract administration, negotiation, and interpretation. However, differences in clauses, obligations, and procedures between editions (e.g., 1999 vs. 2017) require careful review. Nevertheless, the shared foundations mean prior experience provides valuable understanding, streamlining learning and application.

NEW QUESTION # 41

In a construction project using the FIDIC Silver Book (edition 1999), if the Parties prefer the dispute board to be appointed on an "ad-hoc" basis instead of as a standing Dispute Avoidance and Adjudication Board (DAAB), what is it called? (1 correct answer applies)

- A. Ad-hoc arbitration
- B. Ad-hoc DAAB
- C. Ad-hoc DB
- D. DAB

Answer: D

Explanation:

Under FIDIC terminology, an ad-hoc Dispute Board is known as a DAB (Dispute Adjudication Board), which is appointed for specific disputes as they arise, rather than standing continuously.

The DAAB is a standing board appointed for the project duration, providing continuous dispute avoidance and adjudication.

Option D refers to arbitration, which is a different dispute resolution method.
