* Coercive: Involves using fear or threats, which is not ideal in Agile environments.

- C. Team Leader

NEW QUESTION # 55

In which of the following circumstances should processes and tools be prioritized over individuals and interactions?

- A. Contractual obligations
- B. Need to demonstrate formal control over processes
- C. Requirement to create and approve documentation
- D. None of the above

Answer: D

Explanation:

The Agile Manifesto explicitly values "individuals and interactions over processes and tools." AgilePM fully aligns with this principle. While processes, tools, documentation, and contracts are important and often necessary (especially for governance, compliance, and clarity), they should not take precedence over effective collaboration, empowered teams, and rapid feedback. AgilePM's practices-facilitated workshops, daily coordination, frequent reviews, and active business involvement-are designed to maximize human interaction to reduce waste, accelerate understanding, and improve quality. Even in regulated or contractual contexts, AgilePM recommends shaping processes and agreements to enable collaboration (e.g., clear roles, decision latency reduction, acceptance criteria, and incremental validation) rather than letting procedures dominate. Therefore, no listed circumstance justifies prioritizing processes and tools over individuals and interactions. The right choice is D. None of the above.
