AACN Critical Care Nursing Exam Sample Questions (Q142-Q147):

NEW QUESTION # 142

A patient is postoperative day 1 from a laparotomy for appendicitis. Which intervention best prevents surgical wound infection?

- A. Shower twice daily, apply betadine to the skin around the wound, and maintain NPO status
- B. Encourage nutritional support as early as possible, bathe daily with pH-balanced cleanser, and encourage mobility
- C. Apply a dressing with plastic tape over the wound, encourage handwashing, and offer a high-calorie diet
- D. Cleanse the wound with antibacterial soap and water, maintain NPO status, and encourage mobility

Answer: B

Explanation:

Early nutritional support, mobilization, and maintaining skin integrity with gentle cleansing are proven strategies to prevent surgical site infections (SSIs). Nutrients support wound healing, while early mobility reduces the risk of complications like pneumonia and impaired circulation.

"Postoperative infection prevention includes early enteral feeding, routine hygiene with non-irritating agents, and ambulation. These reduce bacterial overgrowth, maintain perfusion, and support immune function." (Referenced from CCRN Pediatric - Direct Care: Integumentary, Postoperative Infection Prevention)

NEW QUESTION # 143

When determining the effectiveness of teaching a child's mother about sickle cell disease, which of the following statements by the mother indicates the need for additional teaching:

- A. "I've started to give him some extra fluids with and between meals."
- B. "I'm concerned about how the hospital staff will manage his pain."
- C. "I've told the child's father that both he and I are carriers of the disease."
- D. "He's going to be playing on a soccer team when he's feeling better."

Answer: D

Explanation:

Explanation: "He's going to be playing on a soccer team when he's feeling better" definitely indicated the need of additional teaching. Physical and emotional stress can precipitate a sickle cell crisis. Physical exercise such as running involved in soccer would increase the child's risk for a crisis. Thus, the mother needs additional instructions about this area.

NEW QUESTION # 144

A child was scheduled for a palliative surgery, which creates anastomosis of the subclavian artery to the pulmonary artery. This procedure is called:

- A. Blalock-Tausig
- B. Waterston-Cooley
- C. Coronary artery bypass
- D. Raskkind Procedure

Answer: A

Explanation:

Explanation: Blalock-Tausig procedure is just a temporary or palliative surgery which creates a shunt between the aorta and pulmonary artery so that the blood can leave the aorta and enter the pulmonary artery and thus oxygenating the lungs and return to the left side of the heart, then to the aorta then to the body. This procedure also makes use of the subclavian vein so pulse is not palpable at the right arm

NEW QUESTION # 145

A 2 year old boy was scheduled for an emergency surgery. It as noted that the mother is 16 year old and the father is 17 year old. The child's father and paternal grandfather, who care for the baby, are at the bedside. Informed consent should be signed by:

- A. Paternal grandfather
- B. the 17 year old father
- C. the 16 year old mother
- D. Surgeon and attending physician

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation: The child's father should be the one to sign the consent regardless of his age. In this case, parenthood confers the rights of an adult to the teenager. Informed consent can also signed by the mother if she is present. Option D is valid only if there's no relative that is present or if there's not enough time to obtain consent considering the condition of the patient.

NEW QUESTION # 146

Gracie, the mother of a 3-month-old infant calls the clinic and states that her child has a diaper rash. What should the nurse advise?

- A. "Offer extra fluids to the infant until the rash improves."
- B. "Use baby wipes with each diaper change."
- C. "Leave the diaper off while the infant sleeps."
- D. "Switch to cloth diapers until the rash is gone"

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation: Leaving the diaper off while the infant sleeps helps to promote air circulation to the area, improving the condition. Switching to cloth diapers isn't necessary; in fact, that may make the rash worse. Baby wipes contain alcohol, which may worsen the condition. Extra fluids won't make the rash better.
