NEW QUESTION # 23

What is required to perform explicit counting using the Quality Inspection Engine? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Work center
- B. Sampling procedure
- C. Inspection rule
- D. QM integration

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation:

Explicit counting in the Quality Inspection Engine (QIE) in SAP EWM involves a deliberate count of stock during an inspection, often triggered by quality requirements. Option B ("Sampling procedure") is correct because it defines how many items are inspected (e.g., percentage or fixed number), configured in the quality management (QM) system and linked to EWM. Option C ("Inspection rule") is correct as it specifies the inspection process, including whether explicit counting is required, and is maintained in EWM under SPRO:

SCM Extended Warehouse Management > Quality Management > Inspection Rules. Work center (A) is relevant for production processes, not QIE counting, and QM integration (D) is a prerequisite for QIE but not a direct requirement for explicit counting itself.

- A. Stock on resources
- B. Reserved stock
- C. Stock in transportation units
- D. Stock in transit

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed In-Depth Explanation:

The warehouse management monitor in SAP EWM provides visibility into various stock types. Option C ("Reserved stock") is correct as it shows stock allocated for specific tasks or orders, viewable under nodes like "Stock and Bin" in transaction /SCWM/MON. Option D ("Stock on resources") is correct because it displays stock currently handled by resources (e.g., forklifts), also accessible in the monitor. Option A ("Stock in transit") is managed between warehouses and not typically detailed in the EWM monitor, while option B ("Stock in transportation units") relates to transportation management, not warehouse stock visibility.
