What differentiates SOAR from SIEM?

- A. SOAR platforms integrate automated response into the investigation process.
- B. SOAR platforms focus on analyzing network traffic.
- C. SOAR platforms collect data and send alerts.
- D. SOAR platforms filter alerts with their broader coverage of security incidents.

Answer: A

SOAR (Security Orchestration, Automation, and Response) differs from SIEM by adding automated incident response and workflow orchestration to the detection and alerting capabilities found in SIEM. This enables faster and more efficient handling of security incidents.

NEW QUESTION # 61

Which technology grants enhanced visibility and threat prevention locally on a device?

- A. DLP
- B. EDR
- C. IDS
- D. SIEM

Answer: B

Explanation:

Endpoint Detection and Response (EDR) technologies provide comprehensive visibility and real-time threat prevention directly on endpoint devices. EDR continuously monitors process activities, file executions, and system calls to detect malware, suspicious behaviors, and zero-day threats at the source. Palo Alto Networks' Cortex XDR platform exemplifies this by correlating endpoint telemetry with network and cloud data to provide a holistic defense against attacks. Operating locally on endpoints allows EDR to prevent lateral movement and respond to threats quickly, filling security gaps that network-centric tools alone cannot address. This endpoint-level insight is critical to identifying sophisticated threats that initiate or manifest on user devices.

NEW QUESTION # 62

Which two services does a managed detection and response (MDR) solution provide? (Choose two.)

- A. Incident impact analysis
- B. Periodic firewall updates
- C. Improved application development
- D. Proactive threat hunting

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

Managed Detection and Response (MDR) services combine incident impact analysis and proactive threat hunting to enhance organizational security posture. Incident impact analysis assesses the severity, scope, and potential damage of identified threats, helping prioritize responses. Proactive threat hunting involves skilled analysts searching for hidden threats that automated detection may miss, leveraging threat intelligence and behavioral analytics. Palo Alto Networks' MDR integrates Cortex XDR and human expertise to detect, investigate, and remediate sophisticated threats early. Unlike routine firewall updates or development processes, MDR is focused on active threat discovery and comprehensive incident management.

An Advanced Persistent Threat (APT) is a long-term, targeted cyberattack where data exfiltration is often the primary objective. Attackers maintain a covert presence in the network to steal sensitive information over time.
