NEW QUESTION # 198

During a Sprint, when is new work or further decomposition of work added to the Sprint Backlog?

- A. As soon as possible after they are identified.
- B. During the Daily Scrum after the Development Team approves them.
- C. When the Scrum Master has time to enter them.
- D. When the Product Owner identifies new work.

Answer: A

Explanation:

The correct answer is B, because the Scrum Guide states that "the Development Team modifies the Sprint Backlog throughout the Sprint, and the Sprint Backlog emerges during the Sprint. This emergence occurs as the Development Team works through the plan and learns more about the work needed to achieve the Sprint Goal." Therefore, new work or further decomposition of work can be added to the Sprint Backlog as soon as possible after they are identified by the Development Team.

- A. Keeping track of and estimating all undone work to be completed in a separate Sprint.
- B. Updating Sprint tasks properly in the electronic tracking tool.

- D. Reporting Sprint progress to the stakeholders daily

- D. Managers personally re-assign current subordinates to new teams.
- E. Bring all the developers together and let them self-organize into Development Teams.

Answer: C,E

The correct answers are A and D, because these ways of creating Development Teams are consistent with Scrum's values. Allowing existing teams to propose how they would like to organize into the new structure respects their self-organization and empowerment. Bringing all the developers together and letting them self-organize into Development Teams also respects their autonomy and collaboration.

NEW QUESTION # 201

- C. Inform the Product Owner at the Sprint Review, but prior to the demonstration.
- D. Reduce the definition of "Done" and get all of the Product Backlog items "Done" by the new definition.

The Scrum Guide states that "the Development Team may renegotiate the selected Product Backlog items with the Product Owner. If the Development Team realizes it has too much or too little work, it may renegotiate the selected Product Backlog items with the Product Owner. The Development Team may also invite other people to attend to provide technical or domain advice."
