PMI Cognitive Project Management in AI CPMAI v7 - Training & Certification Exam Sample Questions (Q21-Q26):

NEW QUESTION # 21

You just joined a new company and they want to start their first AI project. Senior management thinks the best approach is to just buy AI from a vendor. You know that AI is something you do, not something you buy.

What is your next best course of action to address this?

- A. Say nothing and let the team figure it out for themselves
- B. Share prior experiences with how your last team addressed this problem and how you solved it
- C. Share prior experiences with how your last team addressed this problem and their data quality issues
- D. Help senior management do research on AI vendors

Answer: B

Explanation:

CPMAI's Differentiate AI Project Management Approaches task stresses that effective AI adoption requires building internal capabilities and understanding domain-specific challenges. By sharing your own team's past experiences-how you diagnosed the problem, structured the data, and developed AI solutions-you guide leadership toward establishing a homegrown, iterative AI practice rather than simply purchasing a black-box product .

NEW QUESTION # 22

You are working for a large multinational organization and have been assigned to a new project. For your new ML project you need to make sure you're managing data privacy and security as you're working with sensitive customer data.

What critical security issues do you need to make sure you address? (Select all that apply.)

- A. Securing model data and metadata
- B. Securing data at rest
- C. Securely storing all data collected for training purposes
- D. Compliance with Data Privacy Laws even if they are out of your physical jurisdiction

Answer: A,B,C,D

Explanation:

Under Domain VI: Trustworthy AI - Task 2: Implementing AI Privacy and Security, CPMAI mandates that teams must: Apply data privacy principles and "ensure compliance with General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)" and other relevant laws regardless of location .

Identify and protect Personally Identifiable Information (PII) and "develop comprehensive AI safety and security protocols," which encompasses securing both model data and metadata and enforcing security monitoring for production systems .

Implement best practices for data anonymization, defense against adversarial attacks, and the secure handling of datasets-this includes securing data at rest and securely storing training data in accordance with organizational and regulatory requirements .

NEW QUESTION # 23

Your team is working on an image recognition system to help identify plants. They have collected a large amount of data but need to get this data labeled.

Which phase of CPMAI is this done?

- A. Phase I
- B. Phase II
- C. Phase V
- D. Phase III
- E. Phase VI
- F. Phase IV

Answer: D

Explanation:

Phase III: Data Preparation includes the Data Labeling generic task group. Specifically, the Label data task covers "identifying methods for data labeling and engaging in data labeling efforts," which is essential for supervised learning workflows like image recognition.

NEW QUESTION # 24

You have just joined a team and they are working on a new project. The project lead isn't sure what type of technology should be used on this project-AI or a traditional software development approach. What is the best way to determine if you have the criteria for a good AI/ML Project?

- A. Evaluate whether the solution can be done with automation.
- B. Determine whether the project has a cognitive technology component and meets a short-term need.
- C. Determine if the project fits within the scope, budget, and timeline set out.
- D. Determine the long-term need for the organization and build the project to that long-term goal.

Answer: A

Explanation:

During Phase I: Business Understanding, one of the foundational CPMAI tasks is to "determine when to implement automation versus AI," ensuring that rule-based or non-cognitive alternatives are considered first and AI is only selected when those approaches won't suffice.

NEW QUESTION # 25

You're working with a small inexperienced team on a new ML project. Choosing the best algorithm with the best settings given the training and test data is proving to be very hard for them. You lack the critical data science resources available on your team, and can't wait weeks until a data science resource becomes available to join your team. What's your best course of action?

- A. Use an AutoML solution
- B. Find a citizen data scientist to help
- C. Outsource the project ASAP
- D. Put the project on hold until the resources needed become available

Answer: A

Explanation:

In Phase IV's Usage of AutoML task, CPMAI expressly recommends leveraging automated machine-learning tools to accelerate model creation when specialized expertise or time is limited. Documenting how AutoML will generate, evaluate, and export models allows teams to maintain pace without sacrificing rigor.
