PMI Agile Certified Practitioner Sample Questions (Q465-Q470):

NEW QUESTION # 465

While attending a conference, an agile practitioner learns of a new user interface (UI) framework that could benefit the team. What should the agile practitioner do next?

- A. Identify a team member to do a proof of concept using this framework.
- B. Discuss this option at the next retrospective.
- C. Email the team directing them to immediately begin using this new framework.
- D. Obtain feedback from team members on the new framework, and then suggest that the product owner create a backlog item to do a spike on it.

Answer: D

NEW QUESTION # 466

What should the agile coach do?

- A. Obtain agreement from the team that, on upcoming sprints, the database administrator will act only in an advisory capacity.
- B. Add another database administrator to balance the workload and aid with knowledge retention.
- C. Move this database administrator to another team so that team members learn database-related tasks.
- D. Start the hiring process for a new, equally skilled database administrator as a replacement.

Answer: B

Explanation:

The presence of a single point of knowledge is a significant risk in agile teams. According to the PMI Agile Practice Guide (Section 4.3.3: Team Structure and Cross-functionality) and Mike Griffiths' PMI-ACP Exam Prep Book (Chapter 3: Team Performance), agile teams should avoid role silos and promote knowledge sharing. Adding another database administrator helps with both workload distribution and knowledge retention through pairing or mentoring.

* Option C is correct: it ensures redundancy and knowledge spread, reducing project risk.

* Option A does not address knowledge transfer or team development.

* Option B removes the knowledge resource, worsening the risk.

* Option D limits knowledge-sharing and still creates a bottleneck.

NEW QUESTION # 467

Team A is working on the second sprint of a product release Team B which is an interdependent team located on the same floor, requires extensive and frequent information to complete its sprint goal.

What should the agile team lead do?

- A. Create a central repository for information, and provide access to team B
- B. Use an information board that will be visible to all passing through the workspace
- C. Email all stakeholders with status updates
- D. Provide team B with the information on an "as needed" basis

Answer: B

NEW QUESTION # 468

A team's technical lead believes that manual testing tasks should be conducted by junior team members below their level. The junior team members think it is unfair and refuse the tasks.

What should the Scrum Master do?

- A. Ask the team manager to advise the technical lead that all tasks are important

- B. Encourage the team to take ownership of the delivery
- C. Tell the technical lead to do the testing
- D. Facilitate an open and focused team discussion that reinforces team agreements

Answer: D

Explanation:

The correct answer is B - Facilitate an open and focused team discussion that reinforces team agreements.

Agile teams are built on collaboration, mutual respect, and self-organization. When conflict arises about role expectations or task assignments, the Scrum Master should create a safe space for open discussion to reinforce working agreements and promote shared accountability.

From the PMI Agile Practice Guide:

"Agile leaders support team collaboration by encouraging open conversations. When team dynamics are strained, the Scrum Master facilitates discussions to reinforce team norms, self-organization, and equality of contribution." (PMI Agile Practice Guide, Section 4.3 - Team Performance and Working Agreements) Mike Griffiths further states:

"Agile teams succeed when responsibilities are shared and roles are not rigidly defined. The Scrum Master should facilitate a discussion that encourages shared ownership and mutual respect for all tasks." (Mike Griffiths, PMI-ACP Exam Prep, Chapter 4 - Team Performance) Incorrect options:

- * A imposes action without addressing the root issue or respecting roles.
- * C brings external authority into a team matter, weakening self-organization.
- * D is partially correct but doesn't resolve the immediate team conflict.
