VMware NSX 4.X Professional V2 Sample Questions (Q38-Q43):

NEW QUESTION # 38

An administrator is configuring service insertion for Network Introspection.
Which two places can the Network Introspection be configured? (Choose two.)

- A. Tier-1 gateway
- B. Edge Node
- C. Partner SVM
- D. Host pNIC
- E. Tier-0 gateway

Answer: A,C

Explanation:
Tier-1 gateway: Network introspection services can be configured at the Tier-1 gateway level to inspect and control East-West traffic between workloads.
Partner SVM (Service Virtual Machine): Network introspection is often implemented through integration with a Partner SVM, which is a virtual machine provided by a third-party security partner to perform deep packet inspection and other security functions.

NEW QUESTION # 39

What are two valid options when configuring the scope of a distributed firewall rule? (Choose two.)

- A. DFW
- B. Segment Port
- C. Tier-1 Gateway
- D. Group
- E. Segment

Answer: A,D

Explanation:
A group is a logical construct that represents a collection of objects in NSX, such as segments, segment ports, virtual machines, IP addresses, MAC addresses, tags, or security policies. A group can be used to define dynamic membership criteria based on various attributes or filters. A group can also be used as the scope of a distributed firewall rule, which means that the rule will apply to all the traffic that matches the group membership criteria32 Reference:

NEW QUESTION # 40

An administrator needs to download the support bundle for NSX Manager.
Where does the administrator download the log bundle from?

- A. System > Settings
- B. System > Support Bundle
- C. System > Settings > Support Bundle
- D. System > Utilities > Tools

Answer: B

Explanation:
To download the support bundle for NSX Manager, an administrator navigates to System > Support Bundle in the NSX Manager UI. This section provides options to generate and download the log bundle, which contains diagnostic information useful for troubleshooting and support.

NEW QUESTION # 41

An NSX administrator wants to create a Tler-0 Gateway to support equal cost multi-path (ECMP) routing.
Which failover detection protocol must be used to meet this requirement?

- A. Bidirectional Forwarding Detection (BFD)
- B. Host Standby Router Protocol (HSRP)
- C. Beacon Probing (BP)
- D. Virtual Router Redundancy Protocol (VRRP)

Answer: A

Explanation:
According to the VMware NSX 4.x Professional documents and tutorials, BFD is a failover detection protocol that provides fast and reliable detection of link failures between two routing devices. BFD can be used with ECMP routing to monitor the health of the ECMP paths and trigger a route change in case of a failure12. BFD is supported by both BGP and OSPF routing protocols in NSX-T3. BFD can also be configured with different timers to achieve different detection times3.

NEW QUESTION # 42

Which two tools are used for centralized logging in VMware NSX? (Choose two.)

- A. VMware Aria Operations
- B. Syslog Server
- C. VMware Aria Operations for Logs
- D. VMware Aria Automation
- E. VMware Aria Operations for Networks

Answer: B,C

Explanation:
Two tools that are used for centralized logging in VMware NSX are Syslog Server and VMware Aria Operations for Logs. Syslog Server is a standard protocol for sending log messages from various network devices to a centralized server1. VMware NSX supports syslog for long term retention of logs and all NSX components can send syslog messages to a configured syslog server2. VMware Aria Operations for Logs is a VMware product that provides intelligent log analytics for NSX3. It provides monitoring and troubleshooting capabilities and customizable dashboards for network virtualization, flow analysis, and alerts3. The other options are incorrect because they are not tools for centralized logging in VMware NSX. VMware Aria Operations is a VMware product that provides operations management and automation for NSX4, but it is not the same as VMware Aria Operations for Logs. VMware Aria Automation is a VMware product that provides automation and orchestration for NSX5, but it is not related to logging. VMware Aria Operations for Networks is not a valid product name.
