NEW QUESTION # 440

A 19-month-old child is admitted to the hospital for surgical repair of patent ductus arteriosus. The child is being given digoxin. Prior to administering the medication, the nurse should:

- A. Not give the digoxin if the pulse is 60
- B. Not give the digoxin if the pulse is 100
- C. Take the apical pulse for a full minute
- D. Monitor for visual disturbances, a side effect of digoxin

Answer: C

Explanation:

Explanation/Reference:

Explanation:

(A) Digoxin should not be given to adults with an apical pulse < 60 bpm. (B) Digoxin should be given to children with an apical pulse > 100 bpm. With a pulse < 100 bpm, the medication should be withheld and the physician notified. (C) Prior to digoxin administration in both children and adults, an apical pulse should be taken for 1 full minute. Aside from the rate per minute, the nurse should note any sudden increase or decrease in heart rate, irregular rhythm, or regularization of a chronic irregular heart rhythm. (D) Early indications of digoxin toxicity, such as visual disturbances, occur rarely as initial signs in children.

NEW QUESTION # 441

A pregnant client comes to the office for her first prenatal examination at 10 weeks. She has been pregnant twice before; the first delivery produced a viable baby girl at 39 weeks 3 years ago; the second pregnancy produced a viable baby boy at 36 weeks 2 years ago. Both children are living and well. Using the gravida and para system to record the client's obstetrical history, the nurse should record:

- A. Gravida 2 para 1
- B. Gravida 3 para 1
- C. Gravida 3 para 2
- D. Gravida 2 para 2

Answer: C

Explanation:

(A) This answer is an incorrect application of gravida and para. The client has had two prior deliveries of more than 20 weeks' gestation; therefore, para equals 2, not 1. (B) This answer is the correct application of gravida and para. The client is currently pregnant for the third time (G = 3), regardless of the length of the pregnancy, and has had two prior pregnancies with birth after the 20th week (P = 2), whether infant was alive or dead. (C) This answer is an incorrect application of gravida and para. The client is currently pregnant for the third time (G = 3, not 2); prior pregnancies lasted longer than 20 weeks (therefore, P = 2, not 1). (D) This is an incorrect application of gravida and para. Client is currently pregnant for third time (G = 3, not 2).

NEW QUESTION # 442

A 14-year-old boy has a head injury with laceration of his scalp over his ear. The nurse should call the physician to report:

- A. Blood pressure increase from 100/80 to 115/85 after lunch

- B. Temperature rise to 102_F rectally
- C. Pulse rate ranges between 68 bpm and 76 bpm
- D. Headache that is unresponsive to acetaminophen (Tylenol)

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

(A) This change in blood pressure may not be significant and does not indicate a widening pulse pressure, a late sign of increased ICP. It is important to continue to monitor for change in blood pressure. (B) Acetaminophen may be ineffective in relieving headache after head injury. Stronger analgesics are contraindicated because they mask neurological signs and may depress the CNS. (C) Pulse rates between 68 bpm and 76 bpm are within normal limits for a 14-year-old child. It is important to monitor for a consistent drop in pulse rate, which is a late sign of increasing ICP. (D) An elevated temperature is abnormal and requires further assessment and medical intervention. The temperature may be unrelated to the head injury, but CNS infection is serious and difficult to control.

- A. Listening to a story about the Muppets
- B. Being taken for a wheelchair ride
- C. Watching Sesame Street on television
- D. Assembling a puzzle with large pieces

(C) Listening to a story may be fun and educational, but it is not directed toward helping the child to achieve autonomy. (D) Watching television may be a favorite activity, but it does not foster autonomy.
