Axis Network Video Exam Sample Questions (Q332-Q337):

NEW QUESTION # 332

While setting up an AXIS Q7404 Video Encoder for control of an analog PTZ using Pelco D protocol, you run into a problem. After uploading of the proper Pelco drivers into the AXIS Q7404 Video Encoder you find that channel 1 is controlling the wrong analog PTZ. Which option below would you adjust to fix this problem so you can avoid changing physical cables?

- A. IP address
- B. Device type
- C. Device ID
- D. Baud rate

Answer: C

Explanation:

When controlling an analog PTZ camera using the Pelco D protocol, the Device ID (sometimes referred to as the address or camera ID) is crucial for ensuring that the correct commands are sent to the intended camera. If channel 1 is controlling the wrong analog PTZ camera, adjusting the Device ID will correct this without the need to change physical cables. Each PTZ camera must have a unique Device ID to ensure proper control within the system. Axis Network Video documentation details the setup and configuration of PTZ control protocols, including the importance of correctly assigning Device IDs.
