IIA Essentials of Internal Auditing Sample Questions (Q600-Q605):

NEW QUESTION # 600

An internal auditor was offered expensive tickets to a sporting event by the manager of an area that she was currently auditing. The auditor politely declined. Which of the following fundamental principles of the MA Code of Ethics did she display?

- A. Independence.
- B. Confidentiality.
- C. Objectivity
- D. Competency.

Answer: A

NEW QUESTION # 601

In which scenario might it be considered problematic for the chief audit executive (CAE) to provide assurance services over the payroll function?

- A. The assurance review was initiated following issues identified during a consulting assignment requested by management.
- B. A couple of years ago, the CAE performed accounting functions for the payroll department.
- C. Prior to becoming the CAE, the CAE was the payroll manager.
- D. The CAE previously undertook a consulting assignment in that area to improve processes,

Answer: C

Explanation:

It would be considered problematic for the chief audit executive (CAE) to provide assurance services over the payroll function if, prior to becoming the CAE, the CAE was the payroll manager. This scenario poses a conflict of interest and impacts the objectivity required for assurance services, as the CAE might have inherent biases or a conflict due to previous roles and responsibilities within the payroll function.

NEW QUESTION # 602

Which of the following items related to the quality assurance and improvement program should the chief audit executive report to the board?

- A. Internal auditors' training evaluation results
- B. Annual risk assessment results
- C. Ongoing monitoring results
- D. Periodic management assessment results

Answer: C

Explanation:

The chief audit executive should report the ongoing monitoring results of the quality assurance and improvement program (QAIP) to the board. This reporting is crucial as it provides the board with a continuous insight into the performance and effectiveness of the internal audit function, ensuring that any areas needing improvement can be addressed promptly. Ongoing monitoring is a key component of QAIP, as it involves regular review of performance against the standards and adapting processes as necessary to meet objectives.
