- A. Business interfaces tend to be IP-based, so business physical isolation is no longer required
- B. Service isolation between different Ethernet subsystems through ODUk physical pipes

NEW QUESTION # 105

Which of the following statements about OptiXtrans DC908 is correct?

- A. OptiXtrans DC908 can support L2 function.
- B. OptiXtrans DC908 is designed for the DCN application.
- C. OptiXtrans DC908 is 2U high, which is able to install in 600mm deep rack.
- D. OptiXtrans DC908 cannot be managed by NCE.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The correct answer is OptiXtrans DC908 is 2U high, which is able to install in 600mm deep rack.

Here's an analysis of each option:

- * A. OptiXtrans DC908 cannot be managed by NCE: This is incorrect. The DC908 is fully compatible with Huawei's NCE (Network Cloud Engine) for centralized management, monitoring, and automation.
- * B. OptiXtrans DC908 is 2U high, which is able to install in 600mm deep rack: This is correct. The DC908 has a compact 2U form factor, making it ideal for space-constrained environments. Its shallow depth (compatible with 600mm racks) ensures flexibility in deployment, especially in data centers and edge locations.
- * C. OptiXtrans DC908 can support L2 function: This is incorrect. The DC908 primarily focuses on Layer 1 (physical layer) and Layer 0 (optical layer) transport, such as OTN and WDM. It does not natively support Layer 2 (data link layer) functions like switching or routing.
- * D. OptiXtrans DC908 is designed for the DCN application: This is incorrect. While the DC908 can be used for DCN (Data Communication Network) applications, its primary purpose is data center interconnect (DCI) and high-capacity backbone transmission.
