NEW QUESTION # 88

A "WAGD" outlet would typically be found in the

- A. electrical closet.
- B. laundry room.
- C. operating room.
- D. boiler room.

Answer: C

Explanation:

"WAGD" stands for Waste Anesthetic Gas Disposal. These outlets are installed in operating rooms to remove excess anesthetic gases exhaled by patients or escaping from anesthesia equipment. The purpose is to maintain staff safety and compliance with NFPA 99 (Health Care Facilities Code), which requires WAGD systems in anesthetizing locations.

Correct (D): Operating rooms require WAGD outlets as part of medical gas and vacuum systems.

Incorrect:

- A). boiler room: No patient care; WAGD outlets are not relevant.
- B). electrical closet: For electrical equipment only, no medical gases.
- C). laundry room: Handles linens, not anesthetic gas removal.

NEW QUESTION # 89

The annual utility bill at a hospital is $1.2M for a 500,000 sq. ft. facility. The current construction project will add 100,000 sq. ft. to the facility. What is the anticipated annual utility budget after the construction project is completed?

- A. $240,000
- B. $1,728,000
- C. $1,828,000
- D. $1,440,000

Answer: D

Explanation:

Step 1: Calculate utility cost per square foot.

$$1,200,000 \div 500,000 \text{ sq. ft.} = $2.40 \text{ per sq. ft.}$

Step 2: Calculate new total square footage.

$500,000 + 100,000 = 600,000 \text{ sq. ft.}$

Step 3: Projected utility cost.

$600,000 \times $2.40 = $1,440,000$

Thus, the anticipated utility budget after expansion is $1,440,000.

NEW QUESTION # 90

The time that materials or assemblies have withstood a fire exposure, as established in accordance with test procedures of NFPA 251, is referred to as the

- A. flame spread rating.
- B. fire assembly rating.

- C. fire protection rating.
- D. fire resistance rating.

Answer: D

Explanation:

According to NFPA 251 (Standard Methods of Tests of Fire Resistance of Building Construction and Materials), once a material or assembly is tested and a measure of time is obtained, that result is defined as the fire resistance rating. This rating expresses the duration that a building element can withstand a standardized fire exposure while maintaining structural integrity.

* Correct Answer (B. fire resistance rating): NFPA 251 specifically defines this as the time result from fire exposure testing. It applies to walls, floors, and structural assemblies.

* Incorrect Options:

* A. flame spread rating: This measures only the surface burning characteristics of materials, determined using ASTM E84 or UL 723, not the endurance of an entire assembly.

* C. fire assembly rating: This is not an officially recognized NFPA term; the proper terminology is fire resistance rating.

* D. fire protection rating: This applies to opening protectives such as doors, windows, or shutters, which are tested using NFPA 252 or NFPA 257, not NFPA 251. Fire protection ratings are distinct from fire resistance ratings, since they do not measure full structural endurance.

Relevance to CHFM Compliance Domain:

The Certified Health Care Facility Manager (CHFM) exam includes compliance with fire and life safety codes under its "Compliance" content area. The CHFM Candidate Handbook emphasizes the requirement to understand and apply NFPA standards in healthcare facilities, ensuring compliance with regulatory fire safety measures such as those defined in NFPA 251.
