AVIXA Certified Technology Specialist Sample Questions (Q137-Q142):

NEW QUESTION # 137

The owner is looking for an audio solution for staff meetings. Which question is MOST important to ask to ensure a functioning system?

- A. Would you like ceiling or surface mount speakers?
- B. Do you want handheld or lapel mics?
- C. Are there any remote participants?
- D. Will you use displays or a projector?

Answer: C

Explanation:

To ensure a functioning audio solution for staff meetings, the most important question to ask is whether there are any remote participants. This information is crucial because it affects the system's requirements for microphones, speakers, and possibly video conferencing capabilities. Ensuring that the system can effectively support remote participation will lead to better integration and a more effective communication setup. Axis Technology Specialist documentation highlights the necessity of considering remote participants to provide a comprehensive audio-visual solution that meets all user needs.

NEW QUESTION # 138

Which of the following takes the highest precedence when the interpretations of applicable codes and standards are in conflict?

- A. company guidelines
- B. national safety codes
- C. local authority that has jurisdiction
- D. local fire codes

Answer: C

Explanation:

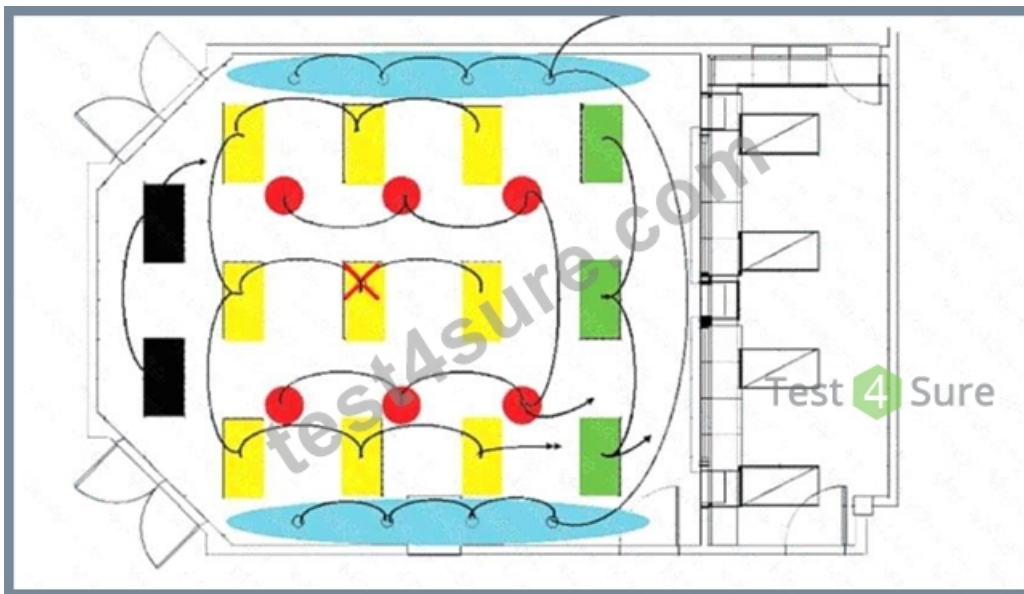

When conflicts arise between codes and standards, the local authority having jurisdiction (AHJ) takes precedence. The AHJ is responsible for enforcing regulations and has the final say in interpretations to ensure compliance with local requirements.

CTS Technology Specialist Reference

CTS guidelines state that the AHJ has ultimate authority over code interpretation and compliance, which is critical in AV installations to ensure safety and legal adherence.

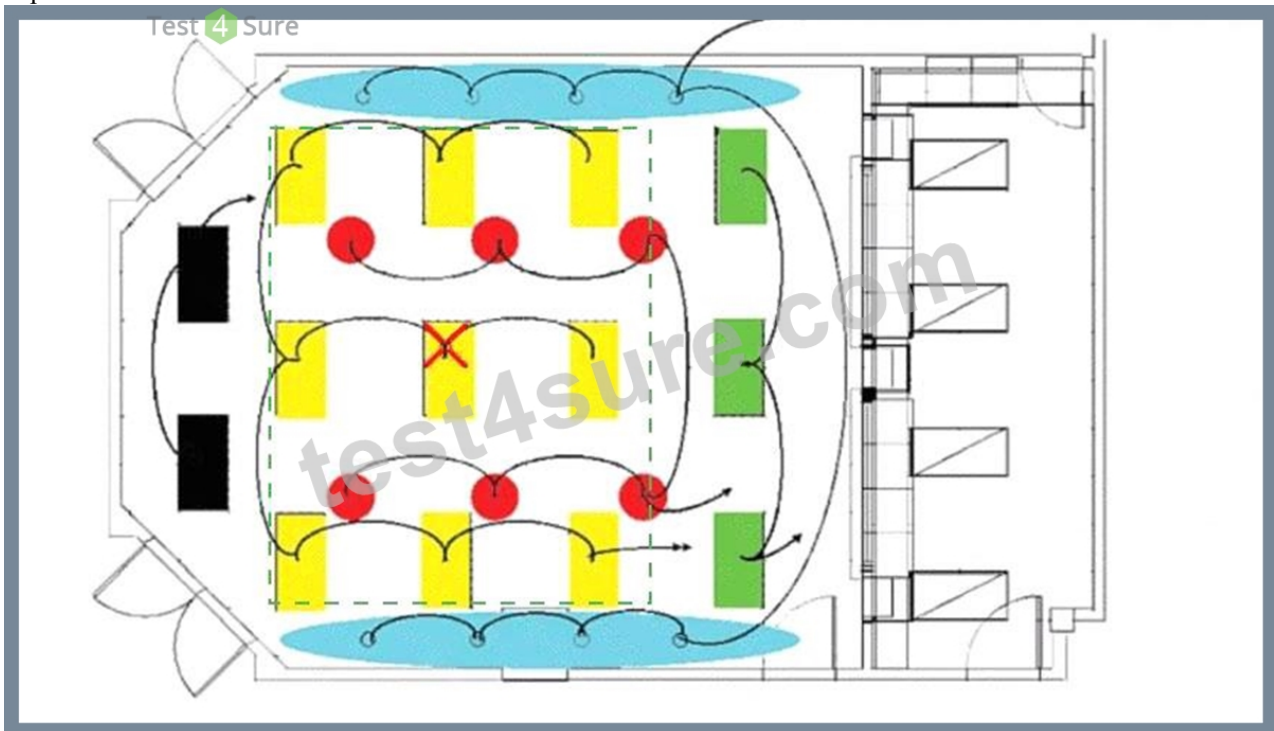

NEW QUESTION # 139

The video conferencing suite shown has a large conference table centered in the room. Dimming which of the COLORED zones would tend to decrease facial shadows? Select the answer by clicking on any light fixture within a zone.

Answer:

Explanation:

Explanation:

Yellow-colored zones (any light fixture within the yellow zones directly above the seating area).

In video conferencing, balanced and well-placed lighting is crucial for achieving good facial visibility and reducing harsh shadows. Overhead lights can cast shadows on participants' faces, particularly under the eyes and nose, which can detract from a professional appearance on camera. By dimming lights directly above (in this case, the yellow zones), you reduce the intensity of the light falling straight down onto faces, softening shadows and creating more even lighting.

Dimming lights in the green or blue zones would be less effective, as they are positioned at the perimeter of the room and provide indirect lighting that does not directly influence facial shadows over the conference table.

NEW QUESTION # 140

To help end users remember key points of the training, the training documentation should include

- A. equipment datasheets.
- B. instructions for maintaining system input devices.
- C. a customized quick start guide.
- D. user manuals for each piece of equipment.

Answer: C

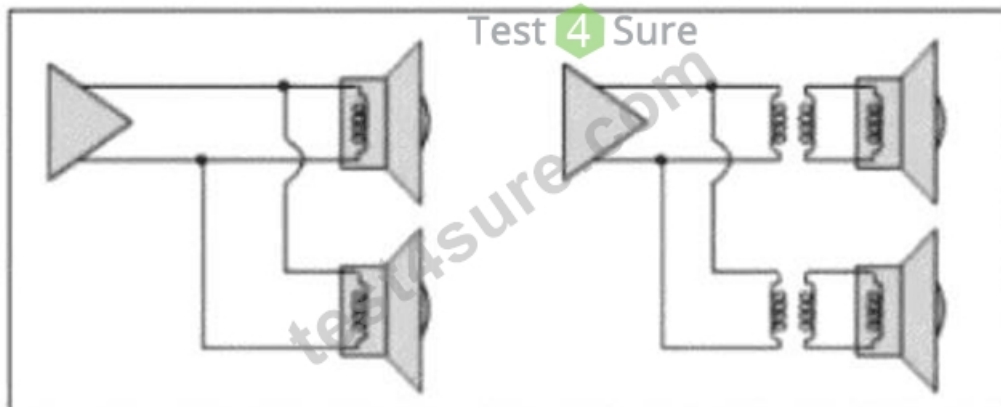

Explanation:

A customized quick start guide is particularly useful for helping end users remember key points of the training.

These guides provide concise, easy-to-follow instructions tailored to the specific system and user needs, highlighting the most important operational steps and features. This helps users quickly familiarize themselves with the system and perform essential tasks without having to refer to extensive manuals. Including visual aids, such as diagrams and screenshots, further enhances the effectiveness of the quick start guide.

NEW QUESTION # 141

The circuit on the RIGHT is an electrical drawing of what type of speaker system?

- A. stereo pair circuit
- B. series circuit
- C. combination parallel/series circuit
- D. constant voltage

Answer: C

Explanation:

The circuit on the right is a combination parallel/series circuit. In this configuration, two sets of speakers are connected in parallel, and these parallel sets are then connected in series. This type of arrangement allows for balancing the load across multiple speakers while maintaining the desired impedance levels.
