NEW QUESTION # 31

A customer needs to move their system from the current version of SAP S/4HANA (on-premise) to the same release version of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition.

What type of transition do you recommend?

- A. Selective Data Transition
- B. System Conversion
- C. System Upgrade
- D. Lift & Shift

Answer: D

Explanation:

The scenario involves moving an on-premise SAP S/4HANA system to the same release version of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition. Since the release version remains the same, the focus is on changing the deployment model (from on-premise to cloud) rather than upgrading or redesigning the system. Let's evaluate the options:

* A. System Conversion: This approach is used to transition from an older SAP ERP system (e.g., ECC) to SAP S/4HANA, involving database migration (to SAP HANA) and data model conversion. Since the customer is already on SAP S/4HANA on-premise, a full system conversion is unnecessary—only the deployment needs to change. Thus, this is incorrect.

* B. Lift & Shift: This is the correct answer. The Lift & Shift approach involves moving an existing system (e.g., SAP S/4HANA on-premise) to a cloud environment (e.g., SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition) with minimal changes to the software version or configuration. Under the RISE with SAP program, this can mean transferring the system to a hyperscaler (e.g., AWS, Azure) or SAP-hosted infrastructure while maintaining the same release. This aligns with the scenario of keeping the same version but shifting to the cloud.

* C. Selective Data Transition: This approach involves migrating selected data and processes from a legacy system to SAP S/4HANA, often with redesign. It's typically used when moving from ECC or a non-SAP system to S/4HANA, not for shifting an existing S/4HANA system to the cloud. It's overkill for this case and thus incorrect.

* D. System Upgrade: This refers to updating the SAP S/4HANA system to a newer release version (e.g., from 2022 to 2023). Since the question specifies moving to the "same release version," no upgrade is needed, making this incorrect.

In summary, the Lift & Shift approach is recommended for moving an on-premise SAP S/4HANA system to the same release version of SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition.

NEW QUESTION # 32

What are the most important tasks in the Fit-to-Standard analysis and design workshops for a system conversion? Note: There are 2 correct answers to this question.

- A. Capturing configuration requirements for the predefined solution
- B. Capturing configuration requirements for new functionality
- C. Validating new functionality in the sandbox system
- D. Validating the predefined solution in the sandbox system

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

In a system conversion to SAP S/4HANA Cloud Private Edition, Fit-to-Standard analysis and design workshops focus on aligning existing business processes with the new system capabilities. Key tasks include:

Option A: Validating new functionality in the sandbox system

This option is incorrect. The primary focus is on existing processes rather than new functionalities.

Option B: Validating the predefined solution in the sandbox system

This option is correct. Workshops involve demonstrating current business processes in the sandbox system to ensure they function as expected post-conversion.

Option C: Capturing configuration requirements for the predefined solution This option is correct. Identifying necessary configurations to align the system with existing business processes is essential during these workshops.

Option D: Capturing configuration requirements for new functionality

This option is incorrect. The focus is on existing processes, not new functionalities.

In summary, during system conversion Fit-to-Standard workshops, validating the predefined solution in the sandbox system and capturing configuration requirements for existing processes are critical tasks to ensure a smooth transition.
