Salesforce Certified Advanced Administrator Sample Questions (Q38-Q43):

NEW QUESTION # 38

Which three fields should be used as filter criteria? Choose 3 answers

- A. A multi-select picklist field that designates features of the listing.
- B. A picklist field that designates the county of the listing.
- C. A number field that designates the square footage of the listing.
- D. A formula field that calculates a price for the listing.
- E. A phone field that provides the full phone number of the seller.

Answer: B,C,E

Explanation:

Explanation

A phone field that provides the full phone number of the seller, a number field that designates the square footage of the listing, and a picklist field that designates the county of the listing should be used as filter criteria because they are fields that can be used to narrow down the report results based on specific values or ranges. A multi-select picklist field that designates features of the listing and a formula field that calculates a price for the listing should not be used as filter criteria because they are fields that cannot be filtered on in reports. - C. Install package on production from AppExchange
- D. Create Package and deploy using Force Migration Tool

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 41

A sales rep at Ursa Major Solar realized that the wrong price book was selected for an opportunity.

How can the sales rep change the price book on the opportunity?

- A. Once selected, the price book can be updated via the forecasts tab.
- B. The change can be made through the mobile app.
- C. Once selected, the price book is locked on the opportunity.
- D. They change can be made through the desktop site.

Answer: D

Explanation:

The change can be made through the desktop site by using the Edit All button on the related list of products on the opportunity page. This button allows you to edit multiple products at once and change their price book entries. You cannot use this button on the mobile app, as it is not supported. You also cannot change the price book on the opportunity once it has products added to it, unless you remove all the products first. References:

Which three items should the administrator take to consideration before installed he managed package?

Choose 3 answers

- A. Apps must be installed in production before the app can be installed in a sandbox.
- B. Apps may require certain Salesforce editions or features to be enabled.
- C. Managed apps do not undergo a formal security review by Salesforce.
- D. Custom objects and custom fields used by the app count against the org's limits.
- E. Apps may require external, third-party web services to function properly.

Answer: B,D,E

Explanation:

Explanation

A managed package is a type of app that can be installed from the AppExchange. Managed packages are typically created by ISV partners or developers who want to distribute and sell applications that are upgradeable and have intellectual property protection.

Before installing a managed package, an administrator should consider the following:

A) Custom objects and custom fields used by the app count against the org's limits.

Managed packages may include custom objects and custom fields that are used by the app. These custom objects and custom fields count against the org's limits and may affect the performance or functionality of the org. Administrators should review the components and requirements of the app before installing it and make sure they have enough space and resources for the app.

Managed packages may require certain Salesforce editions or features to be enabled in order to work properly.

For example, some apps may require Lightning Experience, API access, custom permissions, or specific user licenses.

Administrators should check the app's description and documentation before installing it and make sure they meet the prerequisites for the app. References:
