- A. Content Builder Approval Workflow
- B. Subscriber Preview
- C. Einstein Approval Workflow

Answer: A

Explanation:
Explanation
The feature that should help achieve this as an automatic flow is Content Builder Approval Workflow1. Content Builder Approval Workflow is a feature that allows the marketer to create, manage, and automate the approval process for email content in Content Builder1. The marketer can define the approval steps, assign approvers, set deadlines, and track the status of each email content1. By using Content Builder Approval Workflow, the marketer can ensure that the email content is reviewed and approved by the creative team before sending it to the final audience.
Einstein Approval Workflow is not the correct answer, as it does not help achieve this as an automatic flow.
