Oracle Cloud Infrastructure 2024 Application Integration Professional Sample Questions (Q74-Q79):

NEW QUESTION # 74

GlobalTech Corporation uses Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) to synchronize data between their CRM and ERP systems. They currently have a scheduled integration that runs nightly at 3 AM. With the implementation of a new CRM system that supports real-time data synchronization, GlobalTech wants to update their ERP system immediately after any data changes in the CRM. To achieve this, they need to convert their scheduled integration to an app-driven integration, allowing the CRM system to trigger the integration upon data changes. When implementing this conversion, which of these considerations is NOT valid?

- A. You must choose an existing REST adapter trigger connection resource.
- B. Any existing scheduled parameters will be automatically converted to integration properties.
- C. You cannot convert a scheduled integration to a REST adapter-triggered integration with multiple verbs.
- D. You cannot convert a scheduled integration with assignments that have the fault data type.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Converting scheduled to app-driven:

- * A: True-REST trigger requires an existing connection.
- * B: True-OIC limits REST triggers to one verb (e.g., POST).
- * D: True-fault data types complicate conversion.

NEW QUESTION # 75

Your organization has a number of active integrations in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC). Your advice is sought on the consequences of deactivating integration instances. Which statement concerning integration deactivation is NOT valid?

- A. All existing history, monitoring, and runtime data will be lost.
- B. You will not be able to observe any failed instances occurring after the deactivation request.
- C. Processing of any new messages will be immediately stopped.
- D. You can choose to retain the event subscription, where events are resent if the integration is reactivated again within six hours.

Answer: A

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

Deactivation impacts active integrations:

- * Option A: True-event subscriptions can be retained with a grace period (typically 6 hours) for reactivation.
 - * Option B: True-new message processing halts immediately.
 - * Option C: True-post-deactivation failures aren't tracked as the integration is inactive.
 - * Option D: False-history, monitoring, and runtime data are preserved in OIC for later review, not lost.
- D's inaccuracy highlights OIC's data retention policy.

NEW QUESTION # 76

You are tasked with testing an integration that uses a REST trigger in Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC). You have successfully configured the REST Adapter, and now you want to verify that the integration functions correctly. What should you do to test the integration?

- A. Manually trigger the integration by sending an email to a specified email address with the required REST parameters.
- B. Use the "Test" button in the integration designer to create a request, validate the response, and review the execution logs.
- C. Export the integration as a .jar file and run it in a local development environment.
- D. Perform a SQL query on the associated database to ensure that the expected data is present.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Using the "Test" button is the most effective way to test a REST trigger-based integration in OIC. This method allows for direct interaction with the integration, validation of requests/responses, and access to detailed logs for troubleshooting.

NEW QUESTION # 77

Your organization maintains two SOA cloud service instances used separately for testing and production.

What is the best practice for defining the property values and endpoint addresses unique to each environment when deploying the same SOA composite application archive to both instances?

- A. Edit each application's deployment descriptor to dynamically retrieve values for properties and endpoint addresses from the environment upon deployment.
- B. Manually update any required values for unique properties or endpoint addresses in Fusion Middleware Control following deployment.
- C. Create two separate configuration plans that contain the environment-specific values and then associate the appropriate plan with the SOA archive deployment.
- D. You cannot deploy the same archive to two different environments. Define the specific properties and endpoint addresses statically within two separate SOA archives.

Answer: C

Explanation:

Creating two separate configuration plans for each environment is the best practice. This keeps environment-specific details separate from the SOA archive and promotes reusability and maintainability. Other methods are error-prone or inefficient.

NEW QUESTION # 78

Oracle Integration Cloud (OIC) integrations can be exported so that later they can be imported into another OIC instance environment. Which statement is NOT true about the import and export of OIC integrations?

- A. Imported integrations cannot be immediately activated if their dependent connection resources are not already present in the target OIC environment.
- B. Integrations must be exported as a package if you want to import them into another OIC environment.
- C. Imported integrations can be reconfigured to use different connection resources by using the OIC REST API.
- D. Exported integrations include all their dependent connection resource information except URLs and credentials.

Answer: B

Explanation:

Comprehensive and Detailed Explanation:

OIC supports exporting and importing integrations for migration or backup:

* Option A: True-activation requires all dependent connections (e.g., adapters) to exist in the target environment; otherwise, manual configuration is needed.

* Option B: True-exported integrations (IAR files) include connection metadata but exclude sensitive data like URLs and credentials for security.

* Option D: True-the OIC REST API allows post-import reconfiguration of connections.
