NEW QUESTION # 39

You cannot access cases in SAP Service Cloud Version 2. What could be the reason?

- A. The employee is not assigned to the correct business role.
- B. Access rights are directly assigned to the business user.
- C. Access rights for cases are limited to read access.
- D. Access to the Case app is NOT enabled for the business user.

Answer: A,D

Explanation:

You cannot access cases in SAP Service Cloud Version 2 if you do not have the appropriate access rights or permissions. There are two possible reasons for this: either access to the Case app is not enabled for the business user, or the employee is not assigned to the correct business role. Access to the Case app is enabled by adding the Case work center and the relevant work center views to the business role assigned to the business user. The business role defines the functional scope and access rights of the user for specific tasks and operations. If the business user does not have the Case work center or the necessary work center views in their business role, they will not be able to access cases in SAP Service Cloud Version 2. Alternatively, the employee may have the Case work center and work center views in their business role, but they may not be assigned to the correct business role in the first place. The business role assignment is done in the Employee work center, where the administrator can assign one or more business roles to each employee. If the employee is not assigned to the business role that has the Case work center and work center views, they will not be able to access cases in SAP Service Cloud Version 2. - A. Status
- B. Subject
- C. Installed base
- D. Case type

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

When creating a case, you need to enter the mandatory attributes that are marked with an asterisk (*) in the user interface. These attributes are status and subject. Status indicates the current state of the case, such as new, in process, or completed. Subject is a brief description of the case that helps to identify and categorize it.

Installed base and case type are optional attributes that you can use to provide more information about the case, such as the customer's assets or the nature of the service request. References = Solution Guide for SAP Service Cloud Version 2, section "Cases"
