Microsoft Security Operations Analyst Sample Questions (Q83-Q88):

NEW QUESTION # 83

You have an Azure subscription.

You need to delegate permissions to meet the following requirements:

- * Enable and disable Azure Defender.
- * Apply security recommendations to resource.

The solution must use the principle of least privilege.

Which Azure Security Center role should you use for each requirement? To answer, drag the appropriate roles to the correct requirements. Each role may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.

NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Roles	Answer Area
Security Admin
Resource Group Owner
Subscription Contributor
Subscription Owner

Enable and disable Azure Defender:	Role
Apply security recommendations to a resource:	Role

Answer:

Subscription Contributor
Subscription Owner

Enable and disable Azure Defender:	Security Admin
Apply security recommendations to a resource:	Subscription Contributor

Explanation:

Enable and disable Azure Defender:	Security Admin
Apply security recommendations to a resource:	Subscription Contributor

In Azure Security Center (now Microsoft Defender for Cloud), different roles have different levels of permission. To meet the principle of least privilege, you must assign only the minimal role required for each action.

* Enable and disable Azure Defender

* Enabling or disabling Microsoft Defender plans (formerly Azure Defender) changes billing and protection settings at the subscription level.

* According to Microsoft documentation:

"Only users with the Subscription Owner or Security Admin roles at the subscription level can enable or disable Microsoft Defender plans."

* Because this change affects billing and overall subscription configuration, the Subscription Owner role is the appropriate one - it has full control at the subscription scope.

* Apply security recommendations to a resource

* Applying recommendations (such as enabling disk encryption or updating system patches) involves managing configuration settings on specific resources.

* The Resource Group Owner role provides full management access to all resources within that resource group, which includes the ability to implement or remediate recommendations.

* Microsoft Defender for Cloud guidance states:

"To apply recommendations or perform remediation tasks on specific resources, the user must have write permissions on those resources - typically provided by the Resource Group Owner or Contributor role."

Final Correct Mapping:

* Enable and disable Azure Defender # Subscription Owner

* Apply security recommendations to a resource # Resource Group Owner
