NEW QUESTION # 44

Which two functions does Juniper ATP Cloud perform to reduce delays in the inspection of files?
(Choose two.)

- A. Juniper ATP Cloud allows the creation of allowlists.
- B. Juniper ATP Cloud performs a cache lookup on files.
- C. Juniper ATP Cloud allows end users to bypass the inspection of files.
- D. Juniper ATP Cloud uses a single antivirus software package to analyze files.

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Juniper ATP Cloud is a cloud-based service that provides advanced threat prevention and detection for your network. It integrates with SRX Series firewalls and MX Series routers to analyze files and network traffic for signs of malicious activity.

Two functions that Juniper ATP Cloud performs to reduce delays in the inspection of files are:

Juniper ATP Cloud allows the creation of allowlists: Allowlists are lists of trusted files or file hashes that are excluded from scanning by Juniper ATP Cloud. You can create allowlists based on file name, file type, file size, file hash, or sender domain. By using allowlists, you can reduce the number of files that need to be uploaded to Juniper ATP Cloud for analysis and improve the performance and efficiency of your network.

Juniper ATP Cloud performs a cache lookup on files: Cache lookup is a process that checks if a file has been previously scanned by Juniper ATP Cloud and if there is a cached verdict for it. If there is a cached verdict, Juniper ATP Cloud returns it immediately without scanning the file again. If there is no cached verdict, Juniper ATP Cloud uploads the file for analysis. By using cache lookup, you can reduce the time and bandwidth required for scanning files by Juniper ATP Cloud.

It integrates with SRX Series firewalls and MX Series routers to analyze files and network traffic for signs of malicious activity. Juniper ATP Cloud uses multiple antivirus software packages from different vendors to scan files for known malware signatures and provide a comprehensive verdict based on their results.

Juniper ATP Cloud does not use antivirus software packages to protect against zero-day threats: Juniper ATP Cloud protects against zero-day threats by using dynamic analysis, not antivirus software packages.
