HashiCorp Certified: Terraform Associate (003) (HCTA0-003) Sample Questions (Q138-Q143):

NEW QUESTION # 138

A provider configuration block is required in every Terraform configuration.
Example:

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

A provider configuration block is not required in every Terraform configuration. A provider configuration block can be omitted if its contents would otherwise be empty. Terraform assumes an empty default configuration for any provider that is not explicitly configured. However, some providers may require some configuration arguments (such as endpoint URLs or cloud regions) before they can be used. A provider's documentation should list which configuration arguments it expects. For providers distributed on the Terraform Registry, versioned documentation is available on each provider's page, via the "Documentation" link in the provider's header¹. References = [Provider Configuration]¹

NEW QUESTION # 139

You must use different Terraform commands depending on the cloud provider you use.

- A. False
- B. True

Answer: A

Explanation:

You do not need to use different Terraform commands depending on the cloud provider you use. Terraform commands are consistent across different providers, as they operate on the Terraform configuration files and state files, not on the provider APIs directly.

From Terraform CLI Overview:

"Terraform provides a consistent CLI workflow regardless of which cloud or service you're managing." The same Terraform commands work across all providers via plugins.

NEW QUESTION # 140

What is the workflow for deploying new infrastructure with Terraform?

- A. Write Terraform configuration, run `terraform show` to view proposed changes, and `terraform apply` to create new infrastructure
- B. Write Terraform configuration, run `terraform init` to initialize the working directory or workspace, and run `terraform apply`
- C. Write Terraform configuration, run `terraform plan` to initialize the working directory or workspace, and `terraform apply` to create the infrastructure
- D. Write Terraform configuration, run `terraform apply` to create infrastructure, use `terraform validate` to confirm Terraform deployed resources correctly

Answer: B

Explanation:

Explanation

This is the workflow for deploying new infrastructure with Terraform, as it will create a plan and apply it to the target environment. The other options are either incorrect or incomplete.

NEW QUESTION # 141

In Terraform HCL, an object type of `object({name=string, age=number})` would match this value.

A.

```
{
  name = "John"
  age = fifty two
}
```

B.

```
{
  name = "John" age = 52
}
```

C.

```
{
  name = John age = fifty two
}
```

D.

```
{
  name = John age = 52
}
```

- A. Option C
- B. Option D
- C. Option B
- D. Option A

Answer: C

Explanation:

From the official Terraform Type Constraints Documentation:

The object({ name = string, age = number }) type expects:

* name to be a quoted string, e.g. "John"

* age to be a number, e.g. 52

Option B satisfies both:

```
{
name = "John" ##Valid string age = 52 ##Valid number
}
```

Let's analyze the incorrect ones:

* #Option A: "fifty two" is not a valid number.

* #Option C: John is unquoted (invalid string), and "fifty two" is not a number.
* #Option D: name = John is not quoted, making it an invalid string in HCL.
Terraform is strict about type and formatting. Strings must be quoted, and numbers must be numeric literals.

NEW QUESTION # 142

Which Terraform command checks that your configuration syntax is correct?

- A. terraform validate
- B. terraform fmt
- C. terraform show
- D. terraform init

Answer: A

Explanation:

The terraform validate command is used to check that your Terraform configuration files are syntactically valid and internally consistent. It is a useful command for ensuring your Terraform code is error-free before applying any changes to your infrastructure.
