NEW QUESTION # 23

During load testing, a third party service is constantly failing to respond in a timely manner on the Product Listing Page. The page is not affected at it is collecting data with the server side call, however the loading time is increasing.

Which two recommendations should the developer take in order to minimize the risk and Improve the loading time?

Choose 2 answers

- A. Decrease the service timeout.
- B. Ask the third party to improve the reliability of the service.
- C. Enable the Circuit Breaker.
- D. Remove the service.
- E. Load the data asynchronously after the page is loaded

Answer: C,E

Explanation:

In scenarios where a third-party service impacts page performance, implementing a Circuit Breaker pattern (Option C) can prevent the service from becoming a bottleneck. This pattern helps manage failing service calls by temporarily disabling the service interaction when failures reach a certain threshold, allowing it to recover. Asynchronously loading the data (Option E) ensures the page's primary content loads without delay, while data from the third-party service is fetched in the background, improving the user's perceived performance and page load times.

NEW QUESTION # 24

A Marketing team plans to support the launch of a new product line. In discussion with the Sales and IT teams, the Marketing team proposed introducing a leads-management process, along with a web-to-lead form for the landing page that supports the product launch.

The leads captured using the form are added to the new nurturing journey in Marketing Cloud and subsequently routed to the relevant sales team once they qualify at a certain threshold.

What are two implications that a Solution Architect should consider prior to implementing this solution? Choose 2 answers

- A. Engagement history from the lead record will be natively available for contact record in Marketing Cloud
- B. Leads are unique contact records in Marketing Cloud
- C. Need for additional handling of consent, preferences, and compliance for converted leads in Marketing Cloud
- D. Leads can have detrimental impact on quality of contact records in Sales Cloud

Answer: C,D

NEW QUESTION # 25

An Architect has been approached by the Business with a request to create a custom product finder. The finder would initially be available on only one site, and would eventually be extended to be available on all sites the Business maintains. There is a requirement that these wrings are also available to be used in a Job context for export to other systems.

Each site will have a different category avertable for use by the product finder.

Where should the Architect store the custom settings for use on both the storefront and in a job context?

- A. Category custom attributes
- B. Jobs Framework parameters
- C. Custom Object with a Site Scope
- D. Custom Object with an Organizational Scope

Answer: D

Explanation:

To manage custom settings for a product finder that needs to be accessible both on the storefront and in a job context, storing these settings in a Custom Object with an Organizational Scope is most appropriate. This allows the settings to be centralized and accessible across different sites and job contexts, ensuring consistency and reusability of the configurations:

Organizational Scope: Enables settings to be shared across multiple sites without duplicating data, maintaining a single source of truth for configurations that affect various parts of the organization.

Custom Object: Provides the flexibility to define specific attributes and values that are unique to the business requirements of the product finder and other integrations.
