NEW QUESTION # 23

Which of the following measures can an organization implement to establish regulatory compliance intelligence? (Choose all that apply.)

- A. Establish a process that keeps a track of applicable legal and regulatory changes
- B. Ensure that a mechanism exists for quick and effective provisioning, de-provisioning and authorization of access to information or systems which are exposed to data
- C. Ensure that knowledge with respect to legal and regulatory compliances is managed effectively
- D. Identify the liabilities imposed by the regulations with respect to specific data elements

Answer: A,C,D

Explanation:

According to the DSCI Privacy Framework, the practice area of "Regulatory Compliance Intelligence (RCI)" is dedicated to helping organizations:

* Continuously track evolving laws and regulations (A)

* Map these requirements and associated liabilities to data elements and processing activities (B)

* Develop internal knowledge management systems for compliance obligations (D) Option C, however, relates more to access control and information security, which is typically addressed under technical and security safeguard controls, not under the RCI practice area.

NEW QUESTION # 24

Following aspects can serve as inputs to a privacy organization for ensuring privacy protection:

I) Privacy related incidents detected/reported

II) Contractual obligations

III) Organization's exposure to personal information

IV) Regulatory requirements

- A. I, II and III
- B. None of the above, as privacy and compliance protection mechanisms are evolved based only on organization's privacy policies and procedures
- C. I, II, III and IV
- D. II and IV

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 25

_____ calls for inclusion of data protection from the onset of the designing of systems.

- A. Agile Model
- B. Privacy by Design
- C. Logical Design
- D. Safeguarding Approach

Answer: B

Explanation:

The concept of "Privacy by Design" is a core principle emphasized in the DSCI Privacy Framework (DPF) and DSCI Assessment Framework for Privacy (DAF-P). This principle requires that privacy be integrated into the design specifications and architecture of IT systems and business processes, right from the start of the development process rather than being added later as an afterthought. The DSCI Privacy Framework states:

"Privacy by Design is a proactive approach that embeds privacy into the design and operation of IT systems, networked infrastructure, and business practices. It aims to ensure that privacy is built into the system by default, thereby preventing privacy-invasive events before they happen." This ensures data protection is foundational to system architecture and not merely a compliance requirement added later. This proactive method mitigates risks and enhances user trust by safeguarding personal information through preventive measures rather than reactive ones.

NEW QUESTION # 26

What is a Data Subject? (Choose all that apply.)

- A. An individual who collects data from illegitimate sources
- B. An individual who provides his/her data/information for availing any service
- C. An individual whose data/information is processed
- D. A company providing PI of its employees for processing
- E. An individual who processes the data/information of individuals for providing necessary services

Answer: B,C

Explanation:

According to the DSCI Privacy Framework and aligned international frameworks such as GDPR and APEC, a "Data Subject" refers to:

"An identified or identifiable natural person to whom the personal data relates." This includes individuals whose data is being collected, held, or processed by any entity. Thus:

* A (an individual providing their data to avail a service) is a data subject because the data is about them.

* C (an individual whose data/information is processed) directly matches the definition.

Options B, D, and E refer to entities or persons involved in processing or handling the data, not the individuals to whom the data belongs.
