Snowflake Certified SnowPro Associate - Platform Certification Sample Questions (Q92-Q97):

NEW QUESTION # 92

You are tasked with creating a secure data sharing environment in Snowflake. You need to share a table named 'CUSTOMER RECORDS' from the 'SALES DB' database in your account (Account A) with another Snowflake account (Account B). You want to ensure that Account B can only query the data and cannot modify it in any way. Which of the following steps are REQUIRED to achieve this securely and effectively?

- A. Create an external function that reads the data from Account A and presents it to Account B.
- B. Create a masking policy on all the columns of the 'CUSTOMER RECORDS' table before creating the share object.
- C. Create a share object in Account A and grant USAGE privilege on the database and SELECT privilege on the table to the share.
- D. Grant OWNERSHIP on the 'CUSTOMER RECORDS' table to the target account (Account B).
- E. Create a database in Account B from the share provided by Account A, and grant SELECT privilege to the roles in Account B that need access.

Answer: C,E

Explanation:

To share data securely, you need to create a share object and grant appropriate privileges in the source account (A). This includes USAGE on the database and SELECT on the table. The target account (B) then creates a database from the share, which is a read-only copy of the data.

Finally, SELECT privilege must be granted to roles within account B to allow access. Granting OWNERSHIP to the target account (C) defeats the purpose of secure sharing and isn't required or best practice. External functions (D) are not the correct approach. Masking Policies (E) might be appropriate based on data sensitivity but aren't a fundamental requirement for simple data sharing.

NEW QUESTION # 93

A Snowflake account uses separate virtual warehouses for different workloads: 'REPORTING WH-4' for reporting queries and

'TRANSFORM WH' for data transformation jobs. A user, Alice, is responsible for running both types of workloads. Alice is experiencing performance issues with reporting queries when the transformation jobs are running concurrently. Both warehouses are currently configured with the 'STANDARD' size. What are the recommended strategies to improve the performance of reporting queries without significantly impacting the performance of transformation jobs?

- A. Increase the size of 'REPORTING_WH' to 'LARGE' and enable auto-suspend on to prevent it from consuming resources when idle.
- B. Enable Resource Monitors to limit the credit usage of 'TRANSFORM_WH' and increase the size of to 'LARGE'.
- C. Enable multi-cluster warehouses for both and set the scaling policy to 'ECONOMY' for 'TRANSFORM_WH' and 'STANDARD' for 'REPORTING WH'.
- D. Enable auto-suspend on 'REPORTING_WH' and increase the size of 'TRANSFORM_WH' to 'LARGE'.
- E. Enable multi-cluster warehouses for 'REPORTING' with a scaling policy set to 'STANDARD' and a minimum of 2 clusters. Implement Query Acceleration Service to reduce the compute resources used by reporting queries and implement Resource Monitors to limit the credit usage of 'TRANSFORM_WH'.

Answer: E

Explanation:

Enabling a multi-cluster warehouse for 'REPORTING_WH' with a 'STANDARD' scaling policy allows Snowflake to automatically scale up the number of clusters to handle the increased workload from concurrent reporting queries. The Query Acceleration Service (QAS) will try to reduce the resource consumption of reporting queries. Implementing Resource Monitors for 'TRANSFORM WHS' will prevent it from consuming excessive credits and impacting the performance of 'REPORTING_WH' during concurrent execution.

NEW QUESTION # 94

Which of the following statements about External Tables in Snowflake are true?

- A. External tables require a virtual warehouse to be online for data access.
- B. External tables provide read-only access to data stored in external cloud storage locations.
- C. External tables store data within Snowflake's internal storage.
- D. Changes to the underlying files in the external stage are automatically reflected in the external table without any manual refresh.
- E. External tables can be directly updated using standard SQL DML statements (INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE).

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Options C and D are correct. External tables provide read-only access to data residing in external cloud storage (e.g., Amazon S3, Azure Blob Storage, Google Cloud Storage), and they require a virtual warehouse to be online for querying the data. A is incorrect because external tables do not store data in Snowflake's internal storage. B is incorrect because external tables are read-only and cannot be directly updated with DML. E is incorrect because manual refreshing/metadata caching is required after changes to the source data.

NEW QUESTION # 95

You have a custom role named 'TRANSFORM ROLE' that needs to load data into a table called 'ORDERS'. You want to ensure that this role can only load data into this specific table and has no other privileges. The table is located in database 'SALES DB' and schema 'PUBLIC'. Which of the following grants provides the LEAST PRIVILEGED access required for 'TRANSFORM ROLE' to perform the data load operation using COPY INTO command?

- A. GRANT OWNERSHIP ON TABLE SALES DB.PUBLIC.ORDERS TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE;
- B. GRANT ALL PRIVILEGES ON TABLE SALES DB.PUBLIC.ORDERS TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE;
- C. GRANT INSERT, SELECT ON TABLE SALES DB.PUBLIC.ORDERS TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE;
- D. GRANT INSERT ON TABLE SALES DB.PUBLIC.ORDERS TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE;
- E. GRANT INSERT ON TABLE SALES DB.PUBLIC.ORDERS TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON DATABASE SALES DB TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE; GRANT USAGE ON SCHEMA SALES DB.PUBLIC TO ROLE TRANSFORM ROLE;

Answer: E

Explanation:

The INSERT privilege is required to load data into the table. USAGE privilege on the database and schema is required to access the table. SELECT is not required for COPY INTO operations, only INSERT. OWNERSHIP grants complete control and is overly permissive. ALL PRIVILEGES also grants more privileges than needed.

NEW QUESTION # 96

A data engineer needs to transfer ownership of a database named 'SALES DATA' to a role named 'DATA GOVERNANCE'. The engineer attempts to use the following command: 'GRANT OWNERSHIP ON DATABASE SALES DATA TO ROLE DATA GOVERNANCE'. However, this command fails. What is the MOST likely reason for the failure?

- A. The 'DATA GOVERNANCE' role does not have the 'OWNERSHIP' privilege on the 'SALES DATA' database.
- B. The 'SALES DATA' database contains shared data; ownership cannot be transferred in such cases.
- C. The role executing the command does not have the 'OWNERSHIP' privilege on the 'SALES DATA' database.
- D. Ownership can only be transferred to users, not roles.
- E. The correct syntax is 'ALTER DATABASE SALES_DATA OWNER TO ROLE DATA_GOVERNANCE'.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The `GRANT OWNERSHIP` command requires that the role executing the command currently owns the object (database in this case). If the role executing the command doesn't have the `OWNERSHIP` privilege, it cannot transfer ownership to another role. Options A, B, D and E are incorrect because the problem is about the role which is executing the command.
