Psychiatric Rehabilitation Association Certified Child and Family Resiliency Practitioner (CFRP) Sample Questions (Q88-Q93):

NEW QUESTION # 88

The system of care model emphasizes the importance of a strengths-based, empathetic, nonjudgmental approach to a:

- A. Provider alliance.
- B. Family practice.
- C. Collaborative partnership.
- D. Congenial relationship.

Answer: C

Explanation:

The Systems Competencies domain underscores the system of care model, which prioritizes collaborative, family-centered approaches. The PRA CFRP Study Guide 2024-2025 defines a collaborative partnership as a strengths-based, empathetic, and nonjudgmental relationship between practitioners, families, and other stakeholders to support the child's recovery.

Option A (Collaborative partnership) is correct because the PRA framework emphasizes partnerships that empower families and integrate services, aligning with the system of care principles.

Option B (Congenial relationship) is incorrect because "congenial" implies friendliness but lacks the depth of collaboration required by the PRA.

Option C (Family practice) is incorrect because this term refers to medical practice, not the system of care model.

Option D (Provider alliance) is incorrect because it focuses on providers, not the family-centered partnership central to the PRA guidelines.

NEW QUESTION # 89

Which of the following are included in the eight dimensions of wellness?

- A. Academic, social, and safety
- B. Spiritual, physical, and social
- C. Physical, academic, and emotional
- D. Safety, academic, and spiritual

Answer: B

Explanation:

The CFRP framework incorporates the eight dimensions of wellness to guide health and wellness interventions. These dimensions include spiritual, physical, social, emotional, intellectual, occupational, environmental, and financial wellness. The correct option includes spiritual, physical, and social, which are part of the eight dimensions. The CFRP study guide notes, "The eight dimensions of wellness include spiritual, physical, and social wellness, among others, providing a holistic framework for well-being." Safety (options A and B) and academic (options A, B, and D) are not among the eight dimensions, though emotional (option D) is included but paired incorrectly.

NEW QUESTION # 90

Practitioners play a critical role as members of a treatment team. This role includes

- A. supporting family communication about medication concerns.
- B. recommending discontinuation of medications.
- C. managing medication to ensure compliance.
- D. providing subjective assessment of medication side-effects.

Answer: A

Explanation:

In the CFRP framework, professional role competencies emphasize the practitioner's role within a treatment team, which includes facilitating family-driven care. Practitioners support family communication about medication concerns, helping families express questions and preferences to medical professionals. The CFRP study guide states, "As treatment team members, practitioners play a critical role in supporting family communication about medication concerns, ensuring families are informed and engaged." Managing medication (option B) or recommending discontinuation (option D) falls to medical professionals, not CFRP practitioners. Providing subjective assessments of side-effects (option C) is not a primary role, as this requires clinical expertise beyond the practitioner's scope.

* CFRP Study Guide (Section on Professional Role Competencies): "Practitioners contribute to treatment teams by supporting family communication about medication concerns, fostering informed decision-making." References:

NEW QUESTION # 91

Assessment of suicidal risk is important because

- A. non-suicidal self-harm should not be considered a predictive suicide risk factor.
- B. children with suicidal thoughts frequently make an attempt within days of the disclosure.
- C. there is a continuum of suicidality that determines the level of risk for children.
- D. there is a need to distinguish between attention-seeking behavior and suicidality.

Answer: C

NEW QUESTION # 92

A 9-year-old does not get selected for the school all-star baseball team. This child seeks social support from his peers to manage his disappointment. This is an example of what type of coping strategy?

- A. Problem focused
- B. Emotion focused
- C. Cognitive focused
- D. Process focused

Answer: B

Explanation:

The Strategies for Facilitating Recovery domain includes understanding coping strategies to support resiliency. The PRA CFRP Study Guide 2024-2025 defines emotion-focused coping as strategies that manage emotional distress, such as seeking social support to process feelings, as opposed to addressing the problem directly.

Option A (Emotion focused) is correct because seeking peer support to manage disappointment focuses on regulating emotions rather than solving the problem (non-selection for the team). The PRA framework highlights this as a healthy coping mechanism for children.

Option B (Cognitive focused) is incorrect because cognitive-focused coping involves reframing thoughts, not seeking social support.

Option C (Process focused) is incorrect because "process focused" is not a recognized coping category in the PRA framework.

Option D (Problem focused) is incorrect because problem-focused coping addresses the issue directly (e.g., practicing to make the team next time), not managing emotions through support.
